Only Eight Kansas Senators Able to Recite Lord's Prayer From Memory.
[DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] TOPEKA (Kaa.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An embarrassing situation was created in the Kansas Senate recently when the chaplain, Rev. A. F. Randall, requested the Senators to repeat with him the Lord's Prayer. Only eight of the Senators present were able to join in with the minister. After that the chaplain distributed copies of the book of common prayer of the Episcopal church among the members. At the opening of this morning's session the chaplain again requested the members to say the Lord's Prayer. This time fully half of the members were able to repeat it from memory.

J. H. McKnight, bruised, taken home.
R. T. Fairchild, Cudahy ranch, black eye, Los Angeles Hotel.
Miss Allen, shock, taken home.
Conductor Dorset, bruised back, walked home.
Deputy City Auditor Fred W. Lloyd, San Pedro, mouth cut, legs bruised, taken to home.

HOW IT HAPPENED.
Whittier car No. 311, southbound, in charge of Motorman Woods, left the Pacific Electric building at 6 o'clock, and stopped at the Santa Fe crossing because the semaphores were set against the passage of the car.
Behind the Whittier car San Pedro car No. 358 was dropping down the slight grade at about thirty-five miles an hour, in charge of Motorman Titus. At the warning semaphores, 200 feet from the crossing, Titus cut down his speed to about fifteen miles an hour.
Owing to the rain and the wet window pane before his face, his vision was obscured and it was practically impossible to see either the track ahead or the semaphores at the crossing.
Forty feet from the rear of the car ahead, he saw his danger and threw on the reverse, but owing to the wet tracks, it was impossible to stop the car.
When the crash came, the reverse power, caused the rear car to rebound, and, as a result, there was no piling up of the wreckage.
With the front and rear platforms of the cars badly damaged and with the passengers in a panic, it was three minutes before it was possible to tell whether or not the injury to the passengers was serious.
When stock was taken it was found that the most seriously injured of the passengers were Mrs. M. E. Wood, who suffered a severe cut under the chin; J. T. Whaley, who received a broken nose, and Deputy City Auditor Fred W. Lloyd, whose mouth was cut and teeth loosened.

NUMEROUS DEFENDERS.
Senator Lorimer had numerous defenders who replied to the attack upon him and the method of his election. Chief among them was Senator Heyburn of Idaho, a member of the Lorimer investigating committee, who charged that some persons had entered into the attack upon Lorimer in the spirit of a man-hunt.

His only reason for holding out as long as he has is because he was unable to get couriers through the Federal lines to notify the foreign consuls of his approaching attack, in accordance with the usages of international warfare.

Amateur Balloonist of Varied Achievements Proves Unable to Hold Woman's Love.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An interloper decree of divorce was today granted Mrs. Leroy M. Taylor, from her husband, who is an amateur balloonist of varied achievements, a member of the New York Yacht Club, the Larchmont Yacht Club, the Lambs, the Metropolitan and the Fliers' Club, the social organization of aviators. Mrs. Taylor is to receive the custody of their two children, Rose and Dorothy, 9 and 8 years old, and alimony of $800 a year.
Mr. Taylor is the son of Dr. Leroy Taylor of Washington, D. C., an eccentric student of the occult, who died in 1904, leaving a large estate. Dr. Taylor retired to a fortified castle in the Northwest part of Washington, after the death of his wife, and devoted himself to piling up a fortune to leave to his son.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] H. H. Mullins, traveling man, 28 years old, told his wife on his return home tonight, to get something out of his grip. She discovered a packet of love letters from another woman. Mullins went down town and did not know of her discovery of the letters until he returned home. Mrs. Mullins was awaiting him.
"What's the matter?" asked Mullins. "We cannot live as we have been living," said Mrs. Mullins, and she spoke of the letters.
"Then I will kill myself," said Mullins.
"Why did you wait to come home to kill yourself?" asked Mrs. Mullins. "Well, I am going to kill myself," reiterated Mullins, and drank a quantity of carbolic acid.
Prompt action thwarted his purpose and he was locked up.

Gov. Johnson Fires Up His Steam Roller.

Gillett Appointee Will Be Ousted From Office.

Transue of Los Angeles Also Stated for Ash Heap.

BY W. R. WILLIAMS.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SACRAMENTO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the introduction of the third "big stick" bill today by Senator Estadillo, the Governor's plan to oust his predecessor's appointees from office made another step forward. The Estadillo measure, which comes from the Governor's office, provides for the consolidation of the State Building and Loan Commission with the Banking Department, making the latter a bureau under the Governor's direct supervision.

In this way the Governor will get rid of Charles F. Curry, former Secretary of State, and his opponent at the gubernatorial primaries, and J. P. Transue of Los Angeles, former Assemblyman and present Senator. The bill also provides for the ouster of other appointees.

The Governor's summary vengeance on those who run against him may make political precedents in the future. DIVIDED SESSIONS.

A step by the Senate indicating the Linsner-Johnson plan for a constitutional amendment election in the spring was the passage of the Cammestri amendment for a divided session of the Legislature in the future. Not that the amendment will help now, but its passage indicates a new attitude.

The bill will carry out the special election program before it adjourns. This gives a prospect of a ballot containing about twenty new amendments to the Constitution, including the initiative, referendum, recall, non-partisan primary law and a host of other fads and a ballot as big as the one of 1914.

It is the plan to drive all the amendments through without delay and then clinch them at the election. The railroad commission bill is expected to be the headline during the coming week.

Assemblyman Bohnett got it out of the Ways and Means Committee after a long struggle. The bill is now ready for third reading in the Assembly. It has been amended about seventy times and now presents a new and different bill.

over the old Stetson bill of two years ago, which was its basis. But in the amending process none of the Governor's demands have been met and there are there in all its savagery toward corporations.

It is not believed there will be much opposition in the Assembly and it is planned to force the measure through that branch first and then pass it in the Senate. While there is real opposition to the bill in the Senate, it is not sufficient to create any alarm.

Senator Wright of San Diego, author of the present railroad commission bill, will defend his bill with the "steam roller" behind it is clear to the finish.

ROSEBERRY BILL. The Senate today took up for reconsideration the Roseberry measure reducing peremptory challenges of a defense to ten and giving the State an equal number in felony cases and five each in misdemeanors. The opposition of the country lawyers to the measure was enough to bring a compromise of fifteen on each side in felonies and five in misdemeanors. The compromise is regarded as a great gain in the enforcement of the penal statutes.

Senators Sanford and Black today tried to demonstrate the good will of California for the Asiatic people by introducing measures tending financial aid to plague-stricken China. Black's bill appropriates $5000 to the American Red Cross Society and Sanford's resolution asks other Pacific Coast States to join California in this act of mercy.

While this was going on the Senate Federal Relations Committee was considering a resolution that it intended to terminate "Jingoism" in the Legislature and declare a conservative policy. This resolution will be passed today by Senator Wright and will end the day.

CHARLES S. WHEELER OPPOSES RECALL EXTENSION TO JUDGES.

Brilliant Speech at Sacramento in Opposition to Francis J. Heney Points Out Danger to American Government if "Progressive" Scheme to Place Judiciary at Mercy of People Should Pass.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SACRAMENTO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Charles S. Wheeler today made a brilliant speech at Sacramento in opposition to the recall extension to judges proposed by Francis J. Heney.

The hearing was before a joint session of the Senate Judiciary and Assembly Constitutional Amendments Committees in the Senate chamber and nearly all the members of the Legislature and hundreds more attended.

The coming of Heney was a device to save the recall from amendment eliminating judges. The sentiment here is strongly against going to that extreme and the radical progressives summoned Heney this afternoon when they heard Wheeler was coming.

Both Heney and Wheeler are leaders of the "progressive" party. Upon every other question Wheeler agrees with Heney, Linsner, Johnson and the rest of the "progressive" party. But on the recall extension to judges, Wheeler is in opposition.

Wheeler's argument lasted an hour and reviewed the constitutional limitations of the courts. He took the income tax decision of 1914 as the beginning of a loss of confidence in the judiciary and denounced it as an usurpation of the legislative arm, a departure from the precedent of a hundred years and he declared impeachment was prevented only because "big business" in whose interest he said the decision was made—controlled the Senate.

CAVALRY TROOPS ON BORDER LINE.

War Department Orders Guards to the Front.

Will Maintain Neutrality at Any and All Costs.

Four Companies Coming From Presidio.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The acute revolutionary situation in Northern Mexico today moved the American government to hurry twelve additional troops of cavalry to the frontier to preserve the neutrality of the United States.

The American military forces will prevent the movement of the revolutionists from this country into Mexico, and also will prohibit defeated rebels with arms from seeking refuge in the United States.

This action was based upon strong representations from the Mexican government that armed bands of revolutionists have been entering Mexico at isolated places along the American border.

Furthermore, it was said the revolutionists have crossed the Rio Grande from Mexico, entering the United States to make their way undisturbed through American territory and then re-entering Mexico.

Orders for the dispatch of troops were issued by the War Department today. Of the twelve companies, four will be sent from the Presidio, San Francisco; six from Fort Mead, N. D.; and two from Fort Wingate, N. M.

This will make the total military force sent to the frontier twenty-two companies of cavalry or about 1500 men. In view of the critical situation at Ciudad Juarez, across the line from El Paso, four troops of the additional cavalry forces will camp at El Paso.

It is understood the government is contemplating asking the United States to permit the American troops to enter Mexico to bring the revolution to a halt.

With the dispatch of the troops, the American government ends utterly. The United States will not be violated by the revolution, as the American government has not been recognized by this government.

may expect no aid from the Federal forces in the State of Sonora.

The latter, according to advices reaching Douglas from several points today, are having troubles enough of their own with the rebel contingent.

Fighting is continual in several parts of Sonora. The rebels have suffered a disastrous defeat the government has suffered within the past few days occurred day before yesterday near Ocuil, on the Southern Pacific and Yaqui Railroad, according to a well-authenticated report which has just reached this city.

A special train carrying 250 Federal troops sent out by the government from Hermosillo to the border a few days ago, is now reported hemmed in by the rebels in the smelter city of Teide on the Yaqui River, southwest of Sahuaripa, where the rebels have been marching towards Hermosillo, when the rebels cut them off. They have been surrounded, it is said, for three days.

Efforts of the government to recruit additional troops at Hermosillo, capital of the State of Sonora, have failed. A report from that city says that the government has failed to recruit 200 citizens and placed them in the barracks. When an officer appeared to swear in the whole crowd raised a shout: "Viva Madero." Gen. Lorenzo was sent for, but was unable to appease them and they were finally dismissed.

Alexander Gandeliera is in charge of the rebel forces reported as having surrounded Gen. Torres's detachment, in the hope of forcing a few men not counting many recent recruits. All the Pima Indians of the Ocuil district are included in his force.

OROZCO NOW REPORTED 10 MILES FROM JUAREZ.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] EL PASO, Feb. 2.—Diligent inquiry here tonight in a measure confirms the report that foreign consuls in Juarez have been notified of the impending attack by the revolutionists to govern themselves accordingly.

The message sent by special messenger has been supplemented by verbal admonition that the attack may be sudden. United States Consul Edwards says he has always warned the American residents of Juarez and it is his understanding that the situation is generally understood.

Abram Gonzales, Provisional Governor of Chihuahua, says the rebels in the Ocuil district have taken Coyame, Jose de la Luz Sanchez, commanded, he says.

No fighting parties have been sent out by the Federalists from Juarez. John Witrope, a reliable citizen of El Paso, says he has always warned the American residents of Juarez and it is his understanding that the situation is generally understood.

A messenger from Gen. Orozco, commanding the insurrectionist forces, is coming up the river from the west with 800 men. A message from Gen. Orozco, commanding the insurrectionist forces, is coming up the river from the west with 800 men.

The general message declared former messengers sent direct to Juarez had been intercepted by the Federal authorities. The messenger detoured Juarez, crossing the border north of the city.

This afternoon a temporary telegraph circuit was made up, Juarez via El Paso, San Antonio and Laredo, Tex., to Mexico City. The circuit was communicated to officials in Mexico City the defeat of Col. Rabago by Orozco about ten days ago in the Gila district, and the messenger believed they saw indications that another body of troops had been detained to approve the city from the west.

BORAH SMASHES STAND-PAT LINE

Direct Vote on Senators Now Unfinished Business.

Resolution Attains Favored Place on Programme.

Lively Time Marks Sessions of Upper House.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—After a series of thrilling experiences, Senator Borah, supported by progressive Republicans and Democrats, made tremendous advances through the lines of old guard Republicans today and placed the resolution for the popular election of Senators in a most advantageous position, squarely in front of the enemy's goal. After taking several rebuffs, the Idaho Senator pounded away until he landed his resolution in the favored place on the legislative programme, and as a result it must come up every day as the unfinished business.

The moment the Lorimer case was laid aside, Senators Nelson and Borah clamored for recognition. Vice-President Sherman saw Mr. Nelson first and gave him the floor. He moved to take up the bill to regulate the leasing of Alaskan coal lands, whereupon Mr. Borah promptly moved to lay that motion on the table. This move failed, 35 to 41.

BORAH IN THE GAIN. Most of the Senators thought this settled the question and that the Borah resolution had been successfully regulated to a position where it would not prove a dangerous factor in the legislative programme during the short time remaining of the Congress. But the Senate had only proceeded with the Alaskan bill for a short time, when Mr. Nelson gave way to Senator Warren to make a motion that the Senate adjourn until Monday. Mr. Borah here jumped into the fray again.

He said he would object and that he did so because it had become apparent that Senators opposed to his resolution would not give consideration to it if they could help it. He demanded a roll call on the motion to adjourn until Monday and this time he won by a small margin.

Thus encouraged, Mr. Borah asked that his resolution be made the unfinished business of the Senate. From the previous roll call it appeared that his resolution might be given the preference and Senator Penrose hurriedly moved an executive session, such a motion may be made at any time and therefore Mr. Borah again found himself objecting to the way. As the executive motion was being put to the Senate, Mr. Borah demanded a roll call, secured a sufficient number of seconds and the call was ordered.

SIGNIFICANT VOTE. On what was regarded as the most significant vote of the day the executive session was denied. Those who voted in the affirmative are regarded as lined up as opposed to the popular election of Senators.

All the affirmative votes were cast by Republicans, but several Republican Senators voted with the Democrats against the closed session, as follows: Beveridge, Borah, Bourne, Brewster, Brown, Burdett, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Dixon, Gronna, Jones, La Follette, Nixon and Perkins. Recognizing that Mr. Borah had the votes, no further objection was made by the opponents and the resolution became the unfinished business of the Senate without a roll call.

Senator Hale even supported the movement in accomplishing the parliamentary proceedings necessary to that end. Good feeling was restored and Mr. Borah announced he had no disposition to prevent any Senator from taking the time required to prepare speeches on the question. He withdrew also his objection to an adjournment until Monday.

EXPOSITION BILL POSTPONED.

Senate Apparently Desires to Act First on New Treaty Pending With Japan. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON (D. C.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is thought by some persons here that the new treaty with Japan is so nearly ready to submit for ratification that it will be sent to the Senate at most any day, to the end that it may be ratified before the Senate acts on the exposition matter. Color seems to be lent to this theory by the action of the Senate Committee on Internal Affairs today in postponing action again until next Wednesday.

COAL RATES ATTACKED.

WESTERN ROADS INVOLVED. (ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Freight rates on bituminous coal, from mines in Utah to points of destination in Utah, Idaho, Montana, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and California, were attacked today by the Consolidated Fuel Company of Utah, and the Castle Valley Coal Company of Wyoming. In a complaint filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission against all the western railroads in the Rocky Mountain territory, the rates are declared to be excessive because, principally, the carriers refuse to make through routes and joint rates from the mines to the final destination.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Vessel Statistics. WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Forty-three sail and steam vessels, of 13,654 gross tons were built in the United States and officially numbered during the month of January, 1911, according to the monthly report of the Bureau of Navigation, Department of Commerce and Labor.

Good News for San Diego. WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congressman Smith was notified yesterday that the Treasury Department hopes to be able to call for bids within two weeks for the construction of San Diego's public building.

ARCHBISHOP TELLS JOKE ON CARDINAL GIBBONS.

High Churchman Whose Life Has Been Despaired of Awakens From Refreshing Sleep, Responds at Mass and Hears Read Message From President Taft.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—The vitality shown by the most Rev. Patrick J. Ryan has completely puzzled his physicians. Notwithstanding that a bulletin was issued last night saying that the prelate probably would not survive the night, he awoke today refreshed by several hours of sound sleep.

His condition today was more satisfactory than it had been for nearly a week. Besides receiving half a dozen callers he told an amusing joke on Cardinal Gibbons and signed his name to an important document.

When Father Kavanaugh, the Archbishop's private secretary, chanted mass today, the distinguished prelate responded and later he joined with Father Kavanaugh in singing a hymn. He paid close attention to the reading of several letters in today's mail and was particularly pleased when his secretary read a note from President Taft.

Union Veterans Protest Bill in Colorado Legislature Which Will Admit Confederate to State Homes. (ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) DENVER, Feb. 2.—Veterans of the Union Army are up in arms against a bill which has passed the House, an amendment to which will permit veterans of the Confederate Army to enter the Colorado State Soldiers' and Sailors' homes. The Council of Administration of the G.A.R. has adopted resolutions condemning the action of the House and declaring that Union soldiers only should be admitted to the homes. Unless the amendment is stricken out in the Senate, an effort will be made to have the bill killed.

IGNORES LAWS OF UNCLE SAM.

Colorado Legislature Skips Senatorship Ballot.

Adjourns From Friday Until the Coming Monday.

Last Voting Shows no Change in Deadlock Fight.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) DENVER, Feb. 2.—The action of the State Legislature today in adjourning until Monday, eliminating the daily vote on the United States Senatorship tomorrow, is being discussed from all angles.

Apparently, nobody thought of the Federal law which calls for a daily vote until a selection is made. It is contended, however, that "each day," referred to in the Federal law, means legislative day and that there is no legislative day when both houses are not in session, as the Legislature cannot legally convene before the day and hour to which adjournment was taken.

Beyond the switching of the Republican vote to C. W. Waterman, today's ballot was unchanged. It was: Democrats: Adams, 1; Martin, 2; Maupin, 3; O'Donnell, 4; Taylor, 5; Thomas, 6; Shafroth, 1; Speer, 26; Ward, 4. Republicans: Dawson, 1; Gowdy, 1; Valle, 1; McCrory, 1; Waterman, 23. NO CHOICE AT ALBANY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) ALBANY (N. Y.) Feb. 2.—There was no choice on the fifteenth joint ballot for United States Senator today. The vote was: Democrats: Sheehan, 14; Hernan, 3; Shepard, 7; Glynn, 3; Littleton, 2; O'Brien, 2; Taylor, 2. Republicans: Depew, 1. NO QUORUM.

IOWA DEADLOCKED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) DES MOINES (Iowa) Feb. 2.—The vote on United States Senator today in the Iowa Legislature resulted: Funk, 55; Young, 43; Kenyon, 4; Garret, 1; Porter (Dem.), 3; absent, 2; necessary to choose, 73.

UNBROKEN IN MONTANA.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) HELENA (Mont.) Feb. 2.—The Montana senatorial deadlock still continues. The vote today resulted: Carter (Rep.), 35; Walsh (Dem.), 29; Conrad (Dem.), 17; scattering, 13; necessary to choose, 49.

MORE CHINESE MURDERED.

Death Pays for Attempts to Slip Across Boundary—Two Mexicans Under Arrest. (ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) NOGALES (Ariz.) Feb. 2.—The bodies of three more Chinese, victims of the murderous band of Mexican smugglers, whose existence was revealed by one Celestial whom they failed to kill, were found today in a deep canyon five miles northwest of this place. Sheriff Saxon of Santa Cruz county came upon the bodies while he was hunting for men supposed to be members of the gang.

Deputy sheriffs arrested two suspects, and they were taken before the wounded Chinaman in a hospital here today. Despite his injuries, the Chinese, who declares three of his companions were slain, wanted to attack the fugitives. Swearing in pidgin English, he declared they were members of the band that contracted to guide himself and companions across the border, and then shot and robbed them.

The Chinese was wounded four times.

YOUTHFUL POSTOFFICE THIEF.

Pleads for Clemency in Letter Addressed to "Uncle Sam"—Blames Jesse James Stories for Fall. (ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) DENVER, Feb. 2.—Benjamin Dewey Miller, 11 years old, who is in the County Jail here awaiting trial on the charge of robbing the postoffice at Gardner, Colo., has written to President Taft pleading his case. The letter, which is addressed to "Uncle Sam," was sent to the President last night.

"Dear Uncle Sam: I am going to tell you about what I done. I broke into your postoffice with two other kids. I know we done wrong. We got 14 and four or five packages of stamps that all my father and mother are poor and I ain't got no money. I read Jesse James stories and that's what put me up to it. I was in bed when the letter in the mail and called me. This is all for this time, so goodbye. (Signed) "BENJAMIN DEWEY MILLER."

TRAGEDY FOLLOWS WEDDING.

Young Finlander Shoots Self at Butte, Forty-eight Hours After Taking Wife. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) BUTTE, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Forty-eight hours after Matt Louisa, a Finlander, aged 24, had married Hilda Niem his bride, he shot himself twice through the body, causing instant death.

The tragedy occurred after the man had asked his brother to send his wife into the room, that he wished to talk to her, but in reality, that she should be the first to view his corpse. When she came, he lay lifeless across the bed.

The young people had agreed to marry February 25, but Mrs. Dunle, mother-in-law of the girl's brother, insisted on a hereditary "membership" fees in the National Education Association (collected each year when conventions are held) was made today when the Transcontinental Passenger Association adopted the N.E.A. convention rate of $62.50 to both San Francisco and Seattle.

TO SNIP OFF TICKET FEE.

Transcontinental Passenger Association Plans May Reduce Revenues of N.E.A. on Los Angeles Excursion. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A move that is expected to result in a marked diminution next summer in two-dollar "membership" fees in the National Education Association (collected each year when conventions are held) was made today when the Transcontinental Passenger Association adopted the N.E.A. convention rate of $62.50 to both San Francisco and Seattle.

This means that a person wishing to take advantage of the low rate to the Pacific Coast on account of the convention, which will be held in San Francisco from July 8 to July 14, can buy a ticket to Los Angeles and avoid payment of the N.E.A. fee of $2. Ticket-

HELLO, BILL, THEY'RE COMING.

Special Ruling of Interstate Commerce Commission Permits Elks' Excursion to Los Angeles. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SALT LAKE (Utah) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By a special ruling made today by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Salt Lake route will be able to run four special reduced rate excursion trains of Elks from Salt Lake to Los Angeles over the Southern Pacific, Saturday night.

The ruling of the commission sets aside the law requiring thirty days' notice for change in the traffic rates. Up to the time the ruling was received the Elks did not know whether they would be able to take their trip to Los Angeles or not. The excursion will be run under full charge of the Salt Lake route over the Southern Pacific tracks, Salt Lake route rolling stock to be used exclusively.

The first special consisting of six Pullman's will leave Salt Lake at 9 o'clock Saturday night and three other specials will leave at intervals of a half hour. There will be about a thousand Elks in all. All the slide trips planned in California will be carried out as per schedule.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY HITS IT.

Predicts Good Gold Mining in Certain Alaskan Section and Prospectors Locate Rich Veins. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) TACOMA (Wash.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Seward City, Alaska, dispatches say Alaskan miners are just beginning to realize the value of the work done in the past by the Geological Survey several years ago when Alfred H. Brooks made a survey of the Kenai Peninsula, he reported that the best place for prospectors was the Chickaloon country on Turnagain Arm. Mr. Brooks said that section had all a gold bearing country should have and predicted there would be some rich finds both in quartz and placer.

Last year an outfit made the trip into the Chickaloon country and had a look at the formation. They brought out tales of good placer prospects on Indian Creek and some of the best looking quartz that has been found in Southwestern Alaska. The assays run as high as $400 per ton.

CHICAGO'S SHAME TOLD IN REPORT.

Vice Committee Finds Conditions Unpleasant.

Thousands Make Living from Traffic in Women.

Windy City Steeped in Utter Disregard for Morals.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The final report of the vice committee, which will be brought up from adoption at the meeting of the committee of the whole next Thursday, will startle Chicago.
It will show that the authorities know more than 6000 persons whose sole income is derived from traffic in women.
It will show that the authorities know 2000 open resorts, not taking into consideration the hundreds of expensively furnished hotels, buffet apartments and rooms occupied by "transients."
The story of the appalling conditions which the committee on white slavery and social evils found will never be made public. The report has uncovered conditions too revolting to disclose in print.
The deeply steeped in disregard for the moral law has Chicago become that even the final summary will cause one of the biggest sensations the city has experienced.
There will be a decided difference of opinion as to the committee's final recommendation in regard to segregation of vice. The best information obtainable indicates that a majority of the committee will recommend the complete abolishment of the segregated vice sections.

BIRTHPLACE OF GREELEY PAYS TRIBUTE TO HIS ANNIVERSARY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
AMHERST (N. H.) Feb. 2.—The centenary of the birth of Horace Greeley, the widely-known editor of the New York Tribune, was celebrated in this town today.
The staid old town of Amherst made much of the occasion, and welcomed a host of guests who participated in memorial exercises, and made pilgrimages to the rough, unpainted farmhouse, still standing in the midst of rocky fields in the eastern part of the town, where Greeley first saw the light, and where he passed his first ten years.
The house today, unchanged, was reputed in his day to have been the den of a gang of revolutionary counterfeits.

NEW YORK CITY PAYS TRIBUTE TO EDITOR.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Horace Greeley was celebrated today in New York City, and in Chappaqua, N. Y., where the old Greeley farm is now occupied by his daughter, Mrs. Gabrielle Greeley Clendinning.
Twelve old residents of Chappaqua who voted for Greeley for President, dined together at the old homestead to-night and the Chappaqua Historical Society, which has the site for a $10,000 Greeley monument.

ROOT ROASTS LORIMER.

condemned the election of Lorimer as having been accomplished by bribery.

He dismissed as immaterial the controversy over the question of eliminating the seven alleged tainted votes from the total vote on joint ballot as well as from the number received by Lorimer.

INVALIDATING ROTTENNESS.

The rottenness shown by the testimony, contended Mr. Root, was sufficient to invalidate the election of Lorimer, and he asserted that all of the following of Lee O'Neill Browne, the Democratic leader in the Illinois Assembly, was corrupt and the votes of that following should have been eliminated.

Mr. Root reached the conclusion that, deducting the seven votes, Mr. Lorimer had been left without a majority, a fact which, he said, "invalidated his election."

This was equally true, he said, whether the corruption fund had been used either to increase Lorimer's vote or to reduce the total vote.

UNUSUAL SCENE AT END.

The conclusion of Mr. Root's speech was marked by an unusual scene.

Mr. Hale of Maine took the floor and pleaded for a reply to the New York Senator's speech.

Saying that the Senate could not be comfortable while Mr. Root was making his "powerful argument," and declaring that he himself had not been so impressed with the seriousness of the situation.

Mr. Bailey said that if Mr. Root's doctrine was to be followed, it would be found that there had not been a lawful election in Illinois in many years.

Defending the recommendations of the committee, Mr. Heyburn of Idaho, one of its members, charged the right upon Mr. Lorimer to the muck-raking and sensational methods of newspapermen.

SENATE HEARS ALL.

The entire Senate, however, sat today through the long speech by Senator Root, and heard him declare that Senator William Lorimer should be excluded from his seat on account of bribery in his election by the Illinois Legislature, regardless of what methods of subtraction were resorted to with reference to the alleged tainted votes.

Senator Root held the undivided attention of his colleagues as he discussed the report of the Committee on Elections, which Lorimer was exonerated. Mr. Root's position had been a question of much speculation and so high is the esteem in which he is held by the Senate that he has been in abeyance their own opinions until they could hear from him.

CHICAGO'S BITTER STRIKE ENDS; INDEPENDENTS WIN OPEN SHOP.

Twenty Weeks of Violence and Bloodshed Which Cost Lives of Seven Persons and Loss of Millions, Entailing Hardship and Suffering Upon Helpless Families, Resulted From Cut in Wages of Few Sewing Girls.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The following facts in the garment workers' strike, ended today, mark it as one of the most serious in Chicago's labor history.

Duration of strike, twenty weeks.

Cause, reduction of wages of a few sewing girls.

Number killed, three strike rioters, and four non-union workers.

Demands of union, absolute closed shop and new foremen.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

COMMITTEE WILL GIVE AUTO RIDE.

ONTARIO PLANS PLEASANT HOUR FOR THE PASSING HEIR.

Aged Man Dies of a Broken Heart Having Been Uncomfortable Since the Death of His Wife Twelve Days Ago—Eastern Bankers Visit Western Correspondents.

ONTARIO, Feb. 2.—The committee in charge of entertainment of the delegation of Salt Lake Elks, who are to stop off here for five hours February 4, have got into a 29 automobile which will be donated by owners of the machines. Yesterday the proposed route over which the visitors are to be taken was gone over. The route is a long one and crosses and recrosses itself frequently, showing to the visitors nearly every point of interest in the city. It includes a drive to Jamon along the tree-lined roads and a drive to the head of Euclid avenue, 1000 feet higher in elevation than the starting point at the station in Ontario. Souvenirs, bouquets and abundance of fruit has been arranged for. At San Antonio Hospital, corner San Antonio avenue and Tenth street, the Pomona Elks will take charge of the party and pilot it through Claremont to Pomona.

WALL FUNERAL.
The funeral of William Wall, an aged rancher, who died at his home on East 7 street, was held this afternoon at Draper's funeral chapel, Rev. William Perry of the First Baptist Church officiating. Mr. Wall was 72 years of age at the time of death. The cause was given as pneumonia, but it is believed the old gentleman died of a broken heart. Just twenty days before his death he was passing through the city and was told that his wife had died. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock.

VISITS CALIFORNIA BANKS.
Elmer E. Whitaker, cashier of the Haver National Bank of New York City, and William H. Hall, a New York banker, visited Ontario yesterday, taking lunch at the Royal Hotel. They are in Southern California for a month to get acquainted with the conditions here and to visit their many country bank correspondents. Both gentlemen expressed gratification at the delightful country they were passing through, and were surprised to note the high class of development in this section.

STREET WORK.
The City Engineer and his assistants yesterday began the work of establishing the grade for the new sidewalks that the City Council has ordered on all the side avenues running north and south in the old half-mile square city limits. The action of the board at the time the sidewalks were ordered in was protested by many residents along the property affected. The board disregarded the petitions sent in at the time, believing that the time had come when the beauty of the city required paying attention to the side avenues which are many pretty homes.

NEW SHOW HOUSE.
A new moving picture theater was yesterday opened last night with large attendance at both shows. The new theater is located in the heart of the business section on Euclid avenue. The proprietor is Harry Milling.

OFFICE EIGHT HOUR LAW.

Active Campaign Against it Among Fruit Growers, Shippers and Packers in and About Redlands.

REDLANDS, Feb. 2.—Strong opposition is being expressed in Redlands among citrus fruit shippers and packers over the proposed passage of the Senate bill No. 22, which provides an eight-hour day for working women in California. In view of this opposition the following message was sent yesterday to Senator Avey and Assemblyman Bennick at Sacramento:

"PAUL W. MOORE, 'G. C. THAXTER, 'Secretary.' The women and girls who pack oranges are particularly opposed to the passage of a bill which would prohibit their working more than eight hours a day, for they recite, that the women are short at best when the rainy days are taken out of the season, and who count on the orange packing for their entire living, and to shorten the season would make a great hardship for them as they work the piece. The fruit must be gotten out in a reasonably short time, hence if they are limited to eight hours it will be necessary to bring in more packers. The condition prevails in Redlands, Riverdale, Highland and Pomona, and there is strong opposition in all of these places to the passage of the eight-hour law."

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB.

The fortnightly club held its two hundred and fiftieth meeting yesterday and the event was duly celebrated with a banquet served at 5 o'clock at the Young Women's Christian Association. There were laid for twenty-eight at the tables decorated in ferns and violets.

After the feast the meeting was called to order by Rev. C. F. Blaisdell, the president of the club. The principal speaker was W. A. Nichols, secretary, who briefly reviewed the club's activities since its organization some years ago, recalling the notable names and speakers. Dr. J. D. Easton, first president of the club, and through whose efforts it was organized, was also present. He was introduced by the Rev. Mr. Blaisdell.

REDLANDS NOTES.
The residents of several mad dogs were shot within the past fortnight, and some people having been biten, has resulted in the passage of an ordinance making it a misdemeanor to allow any dog to go unmuzzled, if not led by chain. Seth Morrison, a newboy, was attacked last night by a muzzled dog that had gotten the straps of his muzzle loosened, and if the boy had not had on heavy trousers he would have been bitten, these having been torn to shreds before he could get away from the mad creature.

PROMOTE LIBRARY INTERESTS.
Gathering in San Bernardino Devoted to Matters Pertaining to the World of Books and Letters.

ORANGE SHOW PLANS.
In connection with plans for the National Orange Show, to be held here in March, the committee in charge has decided to have a day set apart for each of the communities participating. Thus there will be a Redlands day, a Highland day, Ontario day, and on each day special efforts will be made to exhibit quail shooting for a period of two years. However, as the county has sold licenses good until February 1, the game wardens have no effort to enforce the new ordinance. State Game Warden Webb Toms this morning stated that the order of the Superintendents is unconstitutional and that even when the State law allows quail shooting again, the board's order to prohibit hunting the bird for two years, will not be enforced.

SAN JACINTO.
SAN JACINTO, Feb. 2.—Joe Snitser, a junk dealer of Riverside, was arrested Thursday on the Robbery and Larceny charge by Supt. Stanley, charged with taking liquor onto the reservation. The man was taken to Los Angeles Friday and turned over to the United States Marshal, to await trial before the Federal grand jury.

DISTRIBUTION FOR M'GURCK'S.
The distribution of the McGurck estate, which was the subject of a long and bitter fight, was finally settled yesterday. The estate was divided into three parts, one for the widow, one for the children, and one for the grandchildren.

APPEALS OF THE WILLIAMS HEIRS DENIED.
Attorney Dockweller of Los Angeles Receives Something Over Sixty Thousand Dollars—Settlement of the Estate Has Lasted in the Courts During Several Years.

RECEIVED DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
SAN DIEGO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Denying all appeals of the Williams heirs of San Francisco for a denial of evidence of proof of heirship, Judge Guy of the Superior Court today signed the final decree of distribution of the estate.

CHARITY BALL.
The charity ball, the annual leading event in exclusive society circles, was staged tonight at the U. S. Grant Hotel. The first time the leaders could extend themselves because the ballroom of the Grant Hotel was the first time available. For several days the sides of the ballroom, East and West, were being built up by the ladies for entertaining purposes. Between the dances, refreshments were not only served in the ballroom, but also in the special dining-rooms on the floor below the ballroom. During the intermission place for dinner parlors was a popular feature.

WOMAN PLEADS FOR NEGRO.
Saves Man Who Attacked Her in Her Bedroom From Death at Hands of Southern Mob.

RECEIVED DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
MORGAN CITY (La.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Armstrong Howard, a ginger-colored negro, owes his life to the pleadings of his intended victim, Mrs. D. Egge, who dissuaded some men from lynching him after she had identified him as the black who a night entered her bedroom and choked her.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.
Acceptance of the resignation of Mrs. Ethel Dunn from the guardianship of William and Harriet Quinn, children of Julia P. Quinn, is announced by Judge Lewis of San Diego. The wife of the late Quinn, who was the guardian of the children, died some time ago taken from Dr. Wood, physician at the Point Loma Home. She then returned to her home in San Diego, accompanied by her brother, George L. Patterson. The latter, it is said, desires to secure the children.

BURGULAR STEALS WATCH.
Mrs. Viola Wilson of No. 1364 Second street, reported to the police that a burglar ransacked her home, taking a watch worth $45, a number of gold rings, a watch box and other jewelry.

She said the robbery was not known to the family until the members were ready to retire shortly after 10 o'clock last night. The watch belonged to Walter Broadhead, a present from his mother, Mrs. Emily Broadhead, who lives in the house. The supposition on the part of the family is that the robbery occurred while they were assembled in the dining-room during the supper hour.

RELIEF IS PROMISED.
The San Diego Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of communications indicating promise of relief from an overcharge which tourists are now subjected to when making a side trip to San Diego, after traveling from the East upon a through ticket either by way of Los Angeles or San Francisco. General Passenger Agent J. J. Byrne of the Santa Fe writes Secretary Rufus Choate that when the Transcontinental Passenger Association meets in Chicago this month the complaint will be taken up and passed on. Byrne states in his letter that it is an oversight that San Diego is not included in the same through rate. Tourists now are required to pay $4.50 extra when they come to San Diego.

QUAIL SEASON CLOSURE.
The State law allowing quail to be killed closed Wednesday, February 1. The season for shooting ducks closes February 15. Two months ago the Board of Supervisors by passing a county ordinance attempted to prohibit quail shooting for a period of two years. However, as the county has sold licenses good until February 1, the game wardens have no effort to enforce the new ordinance. State Game Warden Webb Toms this morning stated that the order of the Superintendents is unconstitutional and that even when the State law allows quail shooting again, the board's order to prohibit hunting the bird for two years, will not be enforced.

SAN JACINTO.
SAN JACINTO, Feb. 2.—Joe Snitser, a junk dealer of Riverside, was arrested Thursday on the Robbery and Larceny charge by Supt. Stanley, charged with taking liquor onto the reservation. The man was taken to Los Angeles Friday and turned over to the United States Marshal, to await trial before the Federal grand jury.

THREE DAUGHTERS OF AGED MAN ARE ALLEGED TO DETAIN PARENT BOUGHT BY WIFE IN CHICAGO.
[RECEIVED DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An iridescent matrimonial bubble belonging to Mrs. Speight, who at the tender age of 71 took into herself a widower, was shattered yesterday when William Speight, aged 27, and three step-daughters, blew up with a display of legal pyrotechnics in Judge Dever's court today, with Mrs. Speight appearing for a writ of habeas corpus, charging those same step-daughters with kidnapping that same widowed husband.

Congressman Will Return to National Capital and "Straighten Out" Suits for Clothing and Checks.

RECEIVED DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The disappearance of Congressman Harry M. Conrad, of the District of Missouri, was solved tonight. Mr. Conrad said over the long-distance telephone that he was ill with the grip at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia, but that he would be back within a few days to "straighten out" his affairs. The fact that Mr. Conrad had been absent from the House caused no comment until suits were brought in the courts of Washington to collect for and other domestic bills. There were more suits and a protested note and there were checks returned from the bank marked "insufficient funds." Some of these checks were taken up by Mr. Conrad's brother, Frank Conrad, but at least one other still is outstanding.

Dictionary in Jury Room Is Basis of New Trial Prayer by Indiana Lawyer.

RECEIVED DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
NEWCASTLE (Ind.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because the jury used a small pocket dictionary to ascertain the meaning of certain words, Attorney J. R. Hineshaw today filed a motion for a new trial for Sylvester Hodges, a Portland, Ind., man who was convicted of murder in the second degree, recently, and is now serving a life sentence in the Michigan City State Prison.

URICOL

TRADE MARK

CURES ALL FORMS OF RHEUMATIC DISEASES AND ELIMINATES DEPOSITS IN THE JOINTS

NO MATTER HOW MANY OTHER REMEDIES YOU MAY HAVE USED, YOU HAVE NOT DONE YOUR DUTY BY YOURSELF UNLESS YOU HAVE TRIED URICOL

Here Is What One Grateful Ex-Rheumatic Sufferer Says:

Arthur P. Newkirk with National Pharmacy Co., Los Angeles, writes in 1908:

"URICOL. I have had rheumatism for over a year. I had tried many remedies and was under treatment by a physician but got no relief. I had a bottle of URICOL and was sure within a few days that I have had no return of the disease."

TRY URICOL WITHOUT FAIL. IT WILL NOT FAIL TO HELP YOU.

House Members Discuss Hurd Bill With Angelenos—Lack of Revenue May Prevent Realization.

[RECEIVED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SACRAMENTO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] H. Z. Osborne, representing the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, met the Los Angeles members of both houses today to present reasons why the Hurd bill, appropriating $100,000 for a state-wide exhibit of California's resources, should be passed.

The members are unanimously for the measure but realize that the financial outlook of the state, under the new revenue system, will be the greatest obstacle to success. There is hope, however, of getting half the appropriation asked for. It is to be used making all-California exhibits at international fairs.

TRACTION OFFICIAL SLAIN.

Division Superintendent of Illinois System Dies of Bullet Wound Under Mysterious Circumstances.

[RECEIVED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] ST. LOUIS, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John G. Hubbard, division superintendent and acting cashier for the Illinois Traction system, was found dying at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the offices of the company in Granite City, Ill., from a bullet wound under his heart. He expired before he could tell who had done the shooting.

The police force of Granite City began working on the case immediately to determine whether it was suicide, murder or accident.

Hubbard's temporary business was to open the money boxes of the passengers as they entered cars, and to count the money. All the boxes appeared to be intact at the first examination.

Hubbard had just returned from Edwardsville, where, for the last week, he had been a witness in court. No witnesses to the shooting have been found. John Praxier, a conductor, heard the shot while standing with a group of friends. They ran to the ground and found Hubbard lying on his back on the floor. Near by lay a revolver.

"What have you done?" cried Praxier, as he burst into the room. The dying man raised his head enough to inquire "How?" and then fell back unconscious.

The shot had been fired at close range, for there were powder marks on the dead man's vest. The body was taken to the office of Deputy Coroner Aeger.

Hubbard was 35 years old and single. Hubbard's father, R. F. Hubbard, was an aidman in Warsaw, Ind. A sister lives in Jacksonville, Ill.

Widow of Late Russell Sage to Build $500,000 Dormitory for Women at New York University.

[RECEIVED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] ITHACA (N. Y.) Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Russell Sage has given $500,000 to Cornell University to be used in the construction of a woman's dormitory or college, according to a statement issued today by President Schurman.

The new building is to be known as the "Prudence Hiley Hall," in memory of the mother of Russell Sage.

A GOOD COUGH MIXTURE

Simple Home-Made Remedy. Free From Opium and Harmful Drugs.

An effective remedy that will usually break up a cold in twenty-four hours and quickly relieve the most irritating cough. It is easily made at home by mixing together in a large bottle, 2 ounces glycerine, a 1/2 ounce of pure whisky, shake well and take a teaspoonful every four hours. The necessary ingredients are inexpensive and can be bought in any good drug store.

This formula is the one used by the late Dr. W. A. Leach, founder of the Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, O., in whose laboratories the genuine virgin oil of pine is compounded.

FARMER SLAIN LATEST THEORY.
WAS FOUND DEAD IN COUNTRY ROAD NEAR FRESNO.

It was assumed that he had died suddenly and tumbled from his wagon but his widow says he was killed and points to slashed reins.

FRESNO, Feb. 3.—That Peter Helmuth, the farmer who was found dead in a road near Fresno on the morning of January 25, was the victim of a murder instead of an accident, was the information given by the man's wife today at the office of Coroner W. A. Bean.

The woman stated there were a number of suspicious circumstances in connection with the death of her husband, and that a neighbor had informed her that if the body of the deceased should be examined, the cause of death will be ascertained.

Coroner Bean was out of the city today and Mrs. Helmuth was sent to the District Attorney to tell her story. The officers have also secured information to the effect that the reins of the horse Helmuth was driving had been almost pulled to pieces. It was supposed that Helmuth had met death by falling from his buggy.

BITTER PLUNGE WITH BITTERS.

Runaway Into a Reservation Hard for Driver.

Liquor in His Pocket and He Is Arrested.

Uncle Sam Exacting Under Odd Conditions.

A bottle of bitters carried as a safeguard against chills and a runaway horse which selected an Indian reservation for a playground have placed Joe Snitzer, a junk gatherer, in a serious predicament.

He is now at liberty under bail, awaiting trial on a charge of having introduced liquor in a government reservation and his outfit, including a load of junk, has been confiscated by the Federal authorities.

Snitzer has made a practice of going about the country buying up rags, bones, bottles and scraps of iron. He is cursing the fate which caused him to recently select the country surrounding San Jacinto as a field for business operations.

He was prospering and had no particular cause for complaint until his horse was seized with a sudden desire to cut up some antics Thursday. The animal grasped the bit in its teeth and dashed off like a thoroughbred on a race track. Snitzer pulled on the reins with all his might, but with little effect.

Straight into the heart of the Saboba reservation, which is one of the claimants to the honor of having given to the world the only and original Ramona, the steed plunged.

The junk man was happy when the beast grew tired and he was able to bring it down to a proper gait. He turned it about, little thinking that he has offended army law. The guardian of the government's wards observed him, and seeing that he was a stranger, proceeded to search him, as is the custom when newcomers go on the reservation.

The official pulled forth a small bottle of wine from Snitzer's inside pocket.

"Huh! Sellin' booze to the Indians," commented the officer.

Snitzer pleaded that he had merely carried the bottle of spirits in his pocket, that he might warm himself up when chills to which he was subject came upon him.

His plea was in vain, for Uncle Sam is very jealous of the sobriety of his red children. He has a strict statute against introducing any kind of liquor into one of the plots which he has set aside for the descendants of the aborigines.

When the junk dealer found that he must stand trial, he asked permission to send his horse to a livery in order that it might be properly cared for.

ALL UNCLE SAM'S.

"That rig and the whole junk outfit belong to the government now," he was informed.

Under the law any vehicle which is used in taking liquor into a reservation is subject to confiscation. The title was summarily transferred to Uncle Sam.

Snitzer was brought to this city for arraignment yesterday. Attorney Baird appeared for him, and explained the circumstances. He was told that the case must take its course the same as those which involve the theft of thousands from the mails or any other grave offenses.

Snitzer was much disappointed when he learned that he must get out of his horse and wagon. Who shall ultimately get it will not be known until the case has been properly adjudicated.

If it is found that he introduced liquor into the reservation, he will be placed in the position of bidding against strangers for his own property.

LANDSLIDE ONLY HOPE.

Woolwine's Attorneys Openly Admit Quest for Ballots Is Not Panning Out; Ready to Quit.

Attorneys representing Woolwine's interests in the District Attorney recount openly admitted last evening when Judge Murphy adjourned court that they would give up the quest for ballots unless they found a landslide in his favor soon.

Yesterday was a disheartening day for them. Nothing was lost or gained by either side in the return from ten precincts which were gone over. The court counted 1181 ballots, which had votes for the office in question on them. To have made the required average gain, Woolwine would have had to pick up 513 votes.

He is so far below the required gain now that there can be no doubt that the final results will show that Capt. Fredericks was properly elected by a snug majority.

The result of the count by precincts yesterday was as follows: Precinct No. 76, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine lost 1; No. 77, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine lost 1; No. 78, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine lost 1; No. 79, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine lost 1; No. 80, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine lost 1; No. 81, no change; No. 82, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine gained 2; No. 83, Fredericks gained 1; Woolwine no change; No. 84, Fredericks gained 1; Woolwine gained 1; No. 85, no change.

CHewing-GUN ALL OVER.

Man Arrested Has His Mouth Full of It, a Slot Machine Full, Pockets Full, and Buttons Full.

Yelling at the top of his voice that he was the original Zeno man—the one who put the Zeno on the map—and considerable more, concerning the citizens and institutions of Zeno, Edward Panlin was taken in custody yesterday by detectives near Third and Hill streets, and looked on suspicion of insanity or drunkenness.

Panlin's case is extremely queer and the police surgeon who examined him in a cursory manner, stated that he feared his mind was unbalanced. Panlin was chewing a large wad of gum and was carrying a slot machine filled with the same chewing material. He had large chunks of gum stuck on the buttons of his coat and his pockets bulged with it. He carried a package of slot machines, he lifted it from his resting place and carried it off. Panlin will be thoroughly examined today.

DEVILS.

USES BUNGALOW TO HIDE SCENT.

CHARGE AGAINST ALLEGED WORTHLESS CHECK MAN.

Former Proprietor of Publicity Agency in This City Is Arrested in San Francisco on Accusation of Uttering Fictitious Drafts on Banks.

E. L. Heath, formerly proprietor of a publicity agency in the San Fernando building, was arrested yesterday at Hotel Van Dorn, San Francisco, by operatives for the Burns and Sheridan Wing department, upon the charge of uttering fictitious checks in Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, and numerous inland cities of Southern California, which he had included on his northern itinerary.

Heath resided in Los Angeles during the past year, and was a fine time taken into custody by the police charged with uttering checks upon a local banking institution, where he had no funds on deposit. He had apartments at Hotel Melrose prior to his departure, and created a stir by his rapid method of living, and love for the great wide world.

When Heath first came to Los Angeles he introduced himself in commercial circles as the agent of the Red Wing Advertising Agency, of Red Wing, Minn. He stated that the corporation which he represented held a monopoly on the advertising business in the Northwest, and that his purpose in Southern California was to open a branch office that would ultimately result in a similar monopoly.

The man was of an extremely affable nature, and his friends easily. He is said to be a college graduate. He often talked of the wealth of his father, John Heath, of Fair Bow, Minn., a flour miller.

Several months ago Heath was taken into custody here for a check transaction, but the matter was settled to the satisfaction of the concern involved. At the time, he became greatly incensed at Deputy District Attorney Doran, and threatened to kill him when he obtained his freedom. Friends of Heath, however, managed to quiet him, and an apology followed.

When Heath left Los Angeles the latter part of December he went to Santa Barbara. He registered at the Hotel Melrose, and after remaining there several days, gave a check alleged to be worthless in payment for his room and board. On the same day he was taken into custody by Santa Barbara National Bank, and a few more on the merchants of the Channel City. The check passed upon the Police, and the matter was settled to the satisfaction of the concern involved.

After leaving Santa Barbara, Heath went to San Luis Obispo, where he registered at the Hotel Melrose. He is alleged, he passed more spurious paper on a bank and several merchants. After that he went to Santa Maria, and thence to Fresno, Sacramento, Oakland and finally San Francisco.

According to attaches of the detective agency, Heath went by various aliases on his northern trip. In Santa Barbara he was known as E. J. S. Heath; in San Luis Obispo as Edward Heath; while in San Francisco he registered as E. J. Heath. Heath, it is alleged, resorted to some unique methods to keep the detectives off the scent. At Fresno he hired a room in a private home, while in Santa Maria he rented a furnished bungalow.

The prisoner will be taken to Santa Barbara for trial, but if a case of sufficient strength is not made out against him, he will be brought back here for prosecution for the alleged passing of two small checks a short time prior to his disappearance.

WIFE ON SWEET POTATOES.

That is, Er, the "Ad" for a Spouse Is There, and Man Who Wants Her Is Nowhere.

Victor Infant of Norwalk wants a wife. Victor is evidently a good farmer who has not been able to meet many of the young or middle-aged ladies of his particular section. For that reason he set about advertising for a spouse.

He used the unique method of placing his advertisement on sweet potatoes, since the government mails would bar a newspaper publishing this particular variety of copy. When he picked the sweet potatoes as a medium he failed to realize that on the return from ten precincts which were gone over.

He is so far below the required gain now that there can be no doubt that the final results will show that Capt. Fredericks was properly elected by a snug majority.

The result of the count by precincts yesterday was as follows: Precinct No. 76, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine lost 1; No. 77, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine lost 1; No. 78, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine lost 1; No. 79, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine lost 1; No. 80, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine lost 1; No. 81, no change; No. 82, Fredericks lost 1; Woolwine gained 2; No. 83, Fredericks gained 1; Woolwine no change; No. 84, Fredericks gained 1; Woolwine gained 1; No. 85, no change.

Yet This Banquet Is One of the Queerest.

Homicide, Robbers, Forgers Sit at Spread.

Formerly in San Quentin, Now They're Good.

One homicide, four highwaymen, five burglars, two forgers and three ordinary citizens sat together yesterday evening in one of the prominent downtown hotels and partook of one of the most unique banquets that has a place in the annals of Lucullan festivals in Los Angeles.

It was not the things that were served at the table, nor the manner of their serving, that was a bit out of the ordinary. It was the list of guests, men whose names in years past have been notorious in the newspapers, and who at one time or another figured on the registers of the penal institution at San Quentin.

Not a single patrolman, plain clothes detective or an employee of the hotel was aware of this strange gathering. It started as an ordinary banquet, and ended in a more orderly manner than do a great many. Strange as it may seem, not a one of the number ordered a drink or seemed to have a desire for it.

Still more strange is the fact that all of this former criminal crew is now at work in Los Angeles, not following the nefarious "trades" ascribed to individual members, but pursuing some thoroughly useful occupation, acquiring reputations for honesty, sobriety and general decency. Every one of the men is out on parole, secured through the efforts of Leonard Mordant, in the name prison for a convict, whose work in the past six years in this city has been deemed remarkable for the amount of good that has resulted.

Mordant, who is at the head of the prison parole fund of the Union Rescue League, invited all of these former prisoners to meet at the Melrose State parole office, who has been here several days investigating the condition of the paroled prisoners.

At the feast, Mordant expressed his real surprise and gratification at the change which had come over former criminals. He made no voluminous address, but spoke in a friendly manner of the success of the parolee men, and pledged them to continue doing their best.

His few words led to a greater intimacy among the men, some of whom had never met the others before. He explained the fact that they were incarcerated in the large dining-room, in the talk that followed, interesting figures were produced as to the "earning power" of a burglar, a forger, a highwayman or robber.

These men who had followed the "profession," told of how much they had averaged at each particular kind of crime, and when they were released the number of years that they had served as hostages of the State and brought themselves not a cent. They came to the conclusion that the ordinary burglar or man of his ilk obtains a few dollars a good mechanic.

One of the men instanced a case where he had known a professional yegg who in eight years had averaged $15 a day. "He was only man I ever heard of who did it only man I knew and he was not a pleasant one," he said.

"In trying to escape from a prison in a small western town where he had cracked a safe, he shot and killed one of the officers. He was caught shortly after and hanged from a gallows."

Of such an ordinary appearance to the every-day observer was this band of reformed prisoners that not one of the guests in the large dining-room paid the slightest attention to the fifteen men at table. One of the most pleasant of the group was one of the most striking in appearance, was the man who in a brawl a number of years ago had killed a man. He was given a long sentence, but because of extenuating circumstances, his parole was granted and he today has a good salary account.

At his side sat a young man, merely a boy, who at the age of 14 was sentenced to eight years for the theft of $20. He had served less than five years of his sentence, and yesterday evening was the first time in those years that he had an opportunity to dine as an ordinary citizen. When in San Quentin he showed such an aptitude for mechanics that he has already secured a good position here as an electrical worker. With him came a sailor who had served six years out of a sentence of ten.

Mordant, in his brief talk, told his men of the great possibilities that lie in all of them for good. "Bad men are not wholly bad," said he, "but frequently have been so by circumstances into commission of a crime of error and with a little sympathetic help can readily be reconstructed into wage earners and good citizens of the entire community." He mentioned that the aggregate years of their sentences totaled one life and ninety-six years to serve.

At the conclusion of the dinner it was voted to hold a similar one at some near future date, to which all of the paroled men in Los Angeles might be asked. Of these there are about forty-five in active service here.

HAY FALLS WITH THE RAIN.

Prices Come Down as a Result of the Wetting and Good Growth of Feed All Over the State.

The latest decline in prices attributable directly to the rain of the past two weeks has been reported in hay. From all parts of the State come reports of rapidly-growing green feed for the cows, horses and calves, and this has had an immediate effect on the market. Furthermore the hay crop for the ensuing year has been given such a beautiful start that it will probably be even larger than that of last year, when it eclipsed many former tonnage records.

As a result the dealers who had put the prices up owing to the late coming of the rain, began to decline them a few days ago. They continued to decline them gradually until yesterday $2 had been cut from the price of alfalfa alone. This hay was selling from $14 to $16 a ton and is now down to $12 and $14.

Wheat has been quoted as high as $16 and is now averaging $14. Oat hay is bringing about the same figure. Stock hay, that is inferior quality hay is down as low as $10 a ton. No further declines of any size are anticipated in the next week.

The members of the Uncle Sam W.R.C. will give an entertainment in McKinley Hall, Western Theater building, Grand Avenue, this evening. The entertainments have become very popular, and the ladies hope their friends will attend in large numbers, and thus repay for the labor of preparation.

STANFORD CLUB LUNCHEON.

The Stanford Club will give a luncheon at the Hollenbeck Cafe, at 1515 O'Clock, noon, on Saturday. Dr. John A. Collier will speak of the "Stanford, Doctors," and the general situation at Stanford will be considered.

DIRECTOR RESIGNS.

Fred W. Detmers has resigned from the directorate of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association. His place has been filled by the selection of James P. Burns.

WHEAT HAS QUOTED AS HIGH AS $16 and is now averaging $14. Oat hay is bringing about the same figure. Stock hay, that is inferior quality hay is down as low as $10 a ton. No further declines of any size are anticipated in the next week.

HOUSEBREAKERS IN DISGUISE.

Neighbors Identify Two Men Who Robbed House and Made Second Call on Old Clothes Dealer.

Believing that the two men who robbed her home Thursday afternoon had returned to complete the job, Mrs. J. F. Hosfield of No. 107 Coronado street reported to the detective department yesterday afternoon that the robbers had called ostensibly to buy old clothes. She recognized them from descriptions given her by neighbors who had seen them on the afternoon of the robbery.

The Hosfield home was robbed during the absence of the occupants. The thieves had jimmied the front door and ransacked the house. They obtained a watch and several rings, valued at $150. A suit case belonging to Mr. Hosfield was left open in the middle of the room, and it is believed that the men had been disturbed by the return of Mrs. Hosfield.

When the "old-clothes" men called yesterday that did not expect to find any one at home and worked a bluff.

STEAM ROLLER OVER LISSNER.

SQUEEZED INTO GROUND IS THE LITTLE BOSS.

Mayor Makes Up His Mind to Have a Straw Vote on Acqueduct Power Proposition Which the Dictator Doesn't Want—Question Before Electors Next Month.

Who is now the Good-Government boss in Los Angeles?

Boss Lissner was ridden over yesterday by Mayor Alexander and the solid six. Earl tried to stand in the way, but failed to stop the roller.

The Mayor made up his mind some time ago to have a straw vote on the acqueduct power proposition. Boss Lissner did not want it. Briefly, the Mayor wins.

It was a peculiar issue in many respects, on which to turn the trick. Everybody argued from the start that it would not make much difference whether the people voted again to distribute the acqueduct power through the city or whether the power of the bonds which provide for a distributing system was relied upon to determine the policy. The difference over which the fight has been made is that the Mayor wanted another vote and Lissner did not.

Lissner, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, He wants the power companies to come to him to say what they will offer for the acqueduct power. He argued before the Council and before the City Club that they might offer a proposition that would be attractive—albeit to the city, of course.

The Mayor said that the acqueduct

Remedial Legislation More

Interior Department Decision
Complicates.
Eyes of Oil Men Are Turned Toward Washington.

Unless Congress enacts remedial legislation, in the interest of certain oil operators of California, there will be a pretty little bit of trouble, says Frank Pierce, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, who recently made a study of the oil situation in California. He held that the decision, made by himself in the Yard case at the request of the Land Department, must apply in the Bakersfield case.

The Yard decision, which is now the great oil bugaboo of California, held that the corporation in the eyes of the law is an entity, the same as an individual, and that, therefore, a company composed of more than one individual is entitled to patent an oil (mineral) location is only entitled to twenty acres. In the Bakersfield case the eight original locations, prior to the discovery of oil, transferred their supposed interests in 160 acres to a corporation, and later this Bakersfield Fuel and Oil Company actually made a discovery of oil. This corporation was prior to the first withdrawal of California oil lands by the President.

When an application was made for a patent the Land Department held that the company, being an individual in the eyes of the law, was only entitled to patent twenty acres, the size of a place mining claim, and must elect within twenty days of the entire 160 acres. The Land Department is now in a decision following the law as laid down in the Yard decision, which had been made by Frank Pierce, Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

The Bakersfield Fuel and Oil Company appealed from the decision of the Land Office to the Secretary of the Interior, and argument on the appeal was heard by Mr. Pierce upon the question of his visit late last summer to Los Angeles and the oil fields of the State. The Interior Department had been bombarded by California oil operators with complaints concerning the injury being worked to the interests of the State by the application of the Yard decision to the mining of oil claims, and Assistant Secretary Pierce was sent into the State not for the purpose under any circumstances of settling aside the usual law, but to decide after thorough investigation whether it would be consistent for the Interior Department to recommend remedial legislation in the interests of the oil men.

While here Mr. Pierce "killed two birds with one stone" by holding court and listening to the arguments of able counsel on both sides of the question of the Bakersfield Fuel and Oil Company. These oral arguments were supplemented by written briefs from both sides to the controversy. It was a case of a judge patiently listening to arguments intended to convince him that he should set aside a law he had already made.

In addition to sitting as judge in the Bakersfield case, Pierce invited the operators of the State to come to him and submit reasons why remedial legislation should be recommended to Congress by the Interior Department. After holding sessions with the Assistant Secretary visited numerous oil fields, where he made a personal investigation of the conditions surrounding the efforts of bona-fide prospectors to discover oil.

Recently Pierce was impressed by the fact that a strict application of the present law (placer mining) to oil lands was indeed working an injury to the "good faith" oil men, and, in the course of time, he decided that the Yard decision should apply to the case of the Bakersfield Fuel and Oil Company, he also made a recommendation in favor of remedial legislation.

At the same time, the organizations of California oil operators had appointed a committee of seven of their members to go to Washington and hover over the halls of legislation. Also a representative of the Oil Conservation Association was sent to the National Capital in custody of a bill introduced by S. C. Graham providing for the leasing of government oil lands. That the committee of government oil men, and the committee of the House favors remedial legislation, and will recommend the application of the oil designed to afford relief to the "good faith" operators.

LOCAL JOBBERS ARE IN SADDLE.

Hold Whip Hand for Time in San Joaquin Valley.

Northern Commercial Interests to Continue Fight.

Problem of Low Tourist Rate Is Being Met.

Unless something unforeseen intervenes, Los Angeles commercial interests will begin enjoying, February 15, the fruits of their recent victory for just and reasonable rates to San Joaquin Valley points, according to the statement of F. P. Gregson, traffic manager of the Associated Jobbers, who returned yesterday from San Francisco. The contest over the rates to the valley between Los Angeles and San Francisco will probably continue in one form or another, according to Mr. Gregson, but the decision rendered yesterday by the State Railroad Commission will give local shippers and jobbers fair rates for the time being at least.

It is believed that the fight will be continued by the San Francisco commercial interests asking for lower rates to points in the valley than those now in force. This is following the suggestion of the commission and will mean that, unless Los Angeles can also secure a reduction of rates at the same time, San Francisco, if it gets the reduction, will be placed at an advantage again.

At the same time the fact was pointed out by the traffic manager of the Associated Jobbers yesterday that if the fight does continue, Los Angeles will have the advantage of fair rates at present, and with them the opportunity of extending its territory and strengthening its trade, while the northern merchants are struggling to have their rates reduced.

The following rates are now in effect, effective February 15, for the continuation of which the local commercial interests were fighting:

Local Traffic Record.
In The Times the roads have agreed to allow the usual tourist rates from Chicago and Missouri River points to Los Angeles, effective March 10 to April 10. Other rates to be considered include the low summer rate from the Pacific Coast to the Atlantic Coast, and intermediate points, the daily low summer rate from the East to Los Angeles heretofore effective between June 1 and September 1, besides a number of special rates on account of conventions to be held on the Pacific Coast this summer.

These include the Navy League of the United States which meets here in March, the National Educational Association, the American Sunday-school Association, and the Eagles, which meets in Los Angeles in June. It is probable that the delegates to the Educational Association will be routed by way of Los Angeles.

It is probable that the rate for the educational association will be $2.50 for the round trip from Chicago, and for the other conventions the rate will likely be $2.50.

Doing Away With Steam.
Paul Shoup, vice-president of the Pacific Electric, is preparing to use that part of the Southern Pacific track now being electrified between Serrano and the Arcade Station. This is part of the plan made possible by the recent merger of the Pacific Electric and the Los Angeles Pacific. By electrifying the track mentioned, it would be possible to operate through train service from the San Pedro and Long Beach lines of the Pacific Electric and the lines of the Los Angeles Pacific through to the Arcade station. Mr. Shoup has filed a petition with the City Council asking permission to use electric power on the part of the line now being transformed from a steam to an electric line.

Getting Around It.
Pending the repairing of the washout on the Salt Lake Railroad at Caliente, the Southern Pacific will run a through standard sleeping car on the Owl train leaving here at 6 o'clock p.m. daily. This will connect with the San Francisco overland limited at Oakland pier. The Southern Pacific will also operate a through tourist sleeping car between Los Angeles and Chicago, leaving here at 2:30 o'clock p.m., making connection at Oakland Pier with the through overland train for Chicago. It will probably be a week or ten days before the washout on the Salt Lake is repaired.

Chicago. Beginning next Monday it will be run for six consecutive days in two sections.

Elks' Are Coming.
A dispatch from Salt Lake yesterday announced that the Interstate Commerce Commission had made a ruling permitting the Elks excursion from Salt Lake to Los Angeles. Four special trains carrying 1000 Elks will leave Salt Lake today.

Twentieth Century Musical.
Thursday afternoon a large audience composed of members and friends of the Woman's Twentieth Century Club of Eagle Rock Valley listened to a musical programme under the direction of Mrs. Elva von Groff Menasco. The lecture room of the Congregational Church, where the musical was held, was decorated with white murguieries and yellow chrysanthemums. The first number was a beautifully-rendered piano solo by Ferdinand von Groff, who played "Rudolph Frim's" "Egyptian Dance." Frederick Stevenson's "Longing" was exquisitely interpreted by Mrs. Menasco. "Hello, 'Gumber" by Mrs. Chaney, by Mrs. Carrie Stone Freeman, was prettily sung by Miss Wilhelmy, who also sang "The Blue Bird" and "The Purple M. M. George." Zerbe, and an "Eastertime Psalm" with "cello obligato." Julius Bierlich, whose reputation as a concert violinist is well known, played very beautifully Pemberton's "Romance" and Patterson's "Spring Song."

Undelivered Telegrams.
There are telegrams at the Western Union office for Mrs. Mae C. Bradley, Frank Mertz, C. C. Stanton Lumber Company, Frank Duprey, Tooms Bros., Joseph B. Dabney, Mrs. Mary or Chris Wiedman, Miss Netta Barrett, A. J. Coston, W. H. Davis, Donald Forrester, Y. K. Rhee Korean, Miss Bell Lennox, Miss Maud L. Tabor, James Neagle, Ed. Poole, L. P. Irrigation Officials.
DINUBA, Feb. 2.—Records were broken here today in the election of the officers of the Alta Irrigation district, which includes the major portion of the irrigable land from Monson to Reedley, over 800 votes being cast. There was a stiff fight on over the election of Assessor, which accounts for the large vote. Final results for the various officers were as follows: For Tax Collector: J. D. Pillsbury, Dinuba, 601; A. L. Rutherford, Traver, 59; O. L. Williams, Dinuba, 23. For Assessor: William Miller, M. M. George, Pross, incumbent, 372; Elmer Sibley, Dinuba, 48. For Director from Orsai: Peter Schulp, 79; H. Foramen, 59; H. R. McGee, incumbent, 52. For Director from Wilson: W. Billings, 51. Clarence Wilson of Dinuba was chosen for collector by an almost unanimous vote.

AQUEDUCT IN THE SHOW?

City Asked to Enter That Interesting Exhibit—First Meeting of Advisory Committee Called Wednesday.

The first meeting of the Advisory Committee of the Pacific Land and Products Exposition has been called by Mayor Alexander, chairman of that body, for Wednesday at 4 p. m. in the Council chamber, City Hall. Several details of importance to the large enterprise will be brought up.

One of the subjects to be considered will be the Los Angeles aqueduct exhibit, which the city has been asked to enter at the exposition. At the suggestion of the Executive Committee of the show, Eugene Roth has made a rough diagram illustrating the possibilities of such a display, and this will be placed before those present.

Roth suggests that the entire stage of Shrine auditorium be utilized for the purpose. He would have the entire range which feeds the stream sources of the Owens River laid out in miniature, with every peak in perfect proportion. The laying out of the aqueduct itself would also be reproduced faithfully.

It is possible that this, as well as other important details, will be disposed of at the Advisory Committee meeting.

FORGET.

If you would be happy, look up memories of disagreeable things, and lose the key. Forget the names of the liars who have borrowed money of you "for a few days," and who afterwards always crossed the street in a hurry when they saw you coming. Or, if you have been the borrower, and could not and cannot by any possibility pay, forget all about it, and if your creditor reminds you of it—look him kindly but firmly in the eye and say—

—even Don Ferdinand can do no more than he can do.

Sympathy for Shareholders.

Although the steel trust earned only the pathetic and paltry sum of a little over two and a quarter million dollars during the month of December last, the chances are that the shareholders into whose pockets the money went will be able to pull through if they will be a little more sparing and economical in their personal expenditures. The prices of butter and eggs have not declined appreciably, but then, as far as that goes, they might manage to get along for a while without butter and eggs and be none the worse for it.

UNFAIR TO COXEY.

The so-called "Insurrectos" in Mexico have been compared to "Coxey's Army." We think this is unfair to Coxey, because he was, after all, merely a harmless idiot who marched at the head of a lot of other harmless idiots across a portion of the country one time when the farmers were badly in need of hired men. But these lax accountants in Mexico are staining their souls with the crimes of murder, arson and robbery at every opportunity that presents itself. The Rurales cannot too soon round up these conscienceless looters and mete out to them their just deserts.

IMPEACHMENT.

The proposition to impeach the justices of the Supreme Court for their decision in the Ruff case, instead of coming from Assemblymen, whose duty it would be to present articles of impeachment, in case impeachment were warranted, seems to emanate from Senators, who would, in the event of impeachment proceedings, act as judges in the case. If anything so unjust, so absurd, so utterly outrageous as impeachment should ever take place, the real reason for it would be not the granting by the Supreme Court of a rehearing in the Ruff case, but a political job to create four vacancies on the Supreme Bench, to be filled by the appointees of "I. Hiram W. Johnson."

CHANCE FOR RESEARCH.

Two years ago one or two eastern editors had night sweats because California had ground squirrels and would not employ Sherlock Holmes to find and kill the squirrels. Collier's Weekly turned itself into a sort of a piper of Hamelin and old rat man in one to make a fearful, yet bloodless, attack upon the San Francisco rodents. It was so easy for an anonymous special writer to come West, secure the confessions of a few poisoned rats and then return East to peddle some several thousand words about the dangers of the plague. If these good gentlemen really desire to see how the plague works under favorable conditions, let them now offer them a brilliant field for investigation at first hand.

OSTERLITZKY.

Mexico, in its present day troubles, has one strong arm on which to lean. That arm is in possession of Col. Emilio Kosterlitzky, and it bears the one flaming sword which strikes terror to the heart of the Insurrectos. Kosterlitzky is a Polish soldier of fortune who has served Diaz in Mexico for more than twenty years and is now in charge of the Rurales in Sonora. When one reads of a battle in which Kosterlitzky and his men took part, it sounds like a football game where the score was 10 to 0. The nothing represents the prisoners, for Kosterlitzky takes none. Any sort of Mexican soldiers will fight for Kosterlitzky because he will kill them if they don't. The whole "revolution" could be settled in an hour by getting the Insurrectos together in a battle against Kosterlitzky and ten men.

TURN IT LOOSE.

A Virginian found enough pure gold in California sixty years ago to fill a gallon jar and kept his find a secret until his death on Wednesday. An unfortunately large number of persons got about the same joy from possession. They are capable of conserving their forces and assets to any extent, but they have no ability for applying their power. They are the sort who will place in the world because they make themselves no place in it. They come and go without welcome and without regret. Most of the gold found in California has been buried in a dusty jar for sixty years. The joy of California gold is that it has been poured forth freely for the development and glorification of State and Nation. One man hid his gold in a jar and death has swallowed him, but the thousands who panned the first gleaming sands from California's bright waters have sustained mighty citadels with the nuggets they garnered.

The Democrats in Congress are now in favor of the idea of reciprocity. Don't you remember how they abused James G. Blaine for advocating the doctrine? What a funny thing a Democrat is, anyhow.

The head line, "Berry prices will raise," is as nothing to do with the large bunches of the kale that Hen Berry is putting out for small players in his sleep.

A DVICE FROM BOB.

"L'etat, c'est moi," said Louis the Fourteenth. "The state, it is I," says Hiram the First. When Louis finally lost out, he exclaimed with bitterness: "Has God then forgotten all that I have done for Him?" Hiram will be making a similar remark one of these days. At present, His Most Gracious Excellency, His High and Worshipful Mightiness is surrounded by legislative staffers and fawners, who meow before him like cats calling for breakfast, and lick their Senatorial and Assemblytic chops in expectation of their secret share of the salaries and pickings that will be coming to their brothers-in-law and business partners from the commissionerships, and directorships, and secretaryships to which—in settlement of the promises of patronage which were made to secure the election of Works—they will be entitled when the Legislature adjourns.

"When the Legislature adjourns," Ay, there's the rub, for an adjourned Legislature is a reaped field, from which no hungry Ruth can glean the least kind of a dinner. However, there is a glint of sunshine on the cloud-enshroued horizon of impending legislative impetuosity. It assumes the shape of an extra session, that will be called for the ostensible purpose of subjecting the accused corporations to the taxation which they were expecting to escape through the beneficent operations of that constitutional amendment No. 1, which we were all borrowed into voting for.

"State control" is to be the shibboleth, the open sesame that will cause the doors of the State Treasury to fly back upon their hinges. State control of railroads, of trolley lines, of the telegraph, of the telephone, of electric light and power, of gas, of water, of fuel, of market houses, of banks, of insurance, of everything in the heavens above and the earth beneath, and the waters under the earth.

State control will probably be established and commissioners galore will be appointed by "I. Hiram W. Johnson," of course. State control of all public utilities, local and otherwise, is urged upon California by no less a personage than United States Senator Robert—sometimes irreverently designated as "Bob"—La Follette. The Senator is not satisfied with attending to his knitting in Wisconsin. He raises his voice so that it drowns the zephyrs that rustle the leaves in the Badger State, and sends it on wireless wings across mountain and vale to distant California. He says:

"No pent-up Ulla contracts our powers. But the whole boundless continent is ours." He addresses his communication not to the Governor, not to the Legislature, not to the modest and shrinking Works. He addresses it to "Mr. M. Lissner, Chairman Public Utilities, Los Angeles." Listen to the utterances of "Bob," you snubbed Sacramento solons, he waits his idle dill to the ears of your master. He says:

"The State should have absolute control. Experience has demonstrated that the engineering force and experts required to ascertain the facts necessary for intelligent action on the part of the regulating body will become more efficient by having to deal with every utility in the State, regardless of its size or the size of the city in which it is located."

"There is also an economy in this, as the same expert help can serve all the municipalities. It removes the public utilities from the sphere of local politics, which has been a source of corruption in municipalities generally. The action of a central body is more intelligent and just than the action of common councils. There are many other reasons why central control is better than local control."

It is to be regretted that "Bob" did not state some of the "other reasons" why central control is better than local control. The uninformed and benighted people of Los Angeles have been—until Bob's advice came to hand—laboring under an unfounded and totally irrational belief that local officers elected by themselves could better understand and better guard their local needs than boards composed of San Francisco unionists, Sacramento acquiescers, clamcatchers from Humboldt Bay, and gentlemen from decayed foothill counties, who will probably seek commissionerships with no particular purpose to steal any particular thing, but only a general purpose to acquire without regard to moral obligation. Of course, it goes without saying that Lissnerki, who would probably be the commissioner from Southern California, would know more as to the proper prices to be charged for irrigating water in Shasta than any ignorant galoot from Redding.

If, as The Times fears, the deal is all fixed to create a joblot of boards and commissioners, why should Los Angeles go to the trouble and cost of taking a straw vote of her people to determine whether the power from the Owens River aqueduct shall be leased or sold to the light and power company, or shall be retained and distributed by the city? Why, indeed, should we have a common council at all, in place of such ignorant and dishonest local rascals as "Bob" assumes the citizens would elect, we are to be locally governed by patriots from Bucker Guleh, Tar Flat and Yuba Dam.

ONCE MORE THE TARIFF.

Chateaubriand is credited with the apothegm that "unsettled questions have no pity for the repose of mankind." Especially is this true of the tariff question. Yet the storm center of discussion shifts with the development of new industries and the degradation of old ones. If the rank and file of Democratic voters had been consulted it is not probable that the doctrine of a tariff for revenue only would have found a place in a national Democratic platform for the next thirty years. With the development of iron manufactures at Birmingham and the discovery of a process by which phosphoric ores could be utilized, the phosphoric concerns made into fertilizers, Alabama eliminated free trade muscle from her political concerns. With the establishment of cotton spinning mills at Atlanta and elsewhere, Georgia began to faintly sing the old-time free trade melodies, and the tunes were changed all through the South until Joe Bailey's Texas is about the only stronghold left where the doctrines of the Cobden Club are still preached. The southern brigadiers and "majahs" who never discarded their prehistoric fallacies, cottoned kindly to "a tariff for revenue only." Having no living issue for their political harangues they materialized a ghost. He was not a "warrior" of any particular corpse. He was a reincarnation of those rudimentary and remunerative free trade fallacies which were obliterated by the logic of Henry Clay. For a time "tariff for revenue only" inspired every Democratic speaker North and South, and made of him a stereotyped reproduction of every other Democratic speaker. But now even that cry has substantially ceased, and the Democrats have generally joined the Insurrectos in a modified doctrine of protection, expressed in the proposition that duties should be adjusted on the basis of the difference in the cost of production of manufactured articles between Europe and America.

Champ Clark and the Democrats generally, outside of Joe Bailey, have arrived at the conclusion that a tariff for revenue only would enhance the prosperity of Europe, but would spell ruin to American homes. Democrats are appreciating the fact that the industrial stagnation, the bankruptcy, the loss of work, the closing of mill and furnace, the suffering and misery which were caused eighteen years ago by the temporary overthrow of the Republican doctrine of protection would, if the doctrine of a tariff for revenue only should now be permitted to prevail, come again upon us.

In the revision of the tariff upon which Democrats, Insurrectos and many regulars are now agreed, it is to be hoped that a result will be reached that will, for a time at least, take the tariff question out of politics. Of course economic changes in the cost of production will, from time to time, make schedule changes necessary. But this need not affect the stability of business and business can never thrive without stability—provided the basis of tariff duties shall be firmly and satisfactorily established.

HUMBUGGERY.

Phineas T. Barnum, long since deceased, published an autobiography in which he recited the various pieces of humbuggery which he had practiced at the cost of the American and English public. He began by having the tanned tail of a large fish sewed to the body of a stuffed baboon and advertising it as a Feejee mermaid. Thousands of people flocked to his museum to view the wonder, which was enclosed in a glass case, so that no curious eyes could view the stitches. Then there was the petrified primeval man, a human figure of colossal proportions carved by a sculptor from a block of limestone and buried underground in a place where Barnum knew there would soon be an excavation for a public building. The stone giant was, in due course, accidentally exhumed, and found a home in Barnum's museum. A well-winked old colored woman named Joice Heath was carefully instructed concerning alleged facts occurring during the babyhood and childhood of George Washington, and she held leaves in the museum as the nurse of the Father of his country, and she was still bright at the age of 108 years. Barnum brought Jenny Lind to this country and had an auction sale of seats for her first concert, at which auction he arranged with his neighbor, Genin the hatter, to set the pace for wealthy patrons of the Swedish Nightingale, by bidding $25 for the choice of seats. Crossing the Atlantic, Barnum purchased the house at Stratford-on-Avon in which Shakespeare was born, and avowed his intention to transport it bodily to New York and set it up in Central Park. Then, when all England arose in horrified protest at the desecrating iconoclasm of his act, he proposed to the government to trade Shakespeare's birthplace for the elephant Jumbo, who was in the zoo at Regent's Park. Barnum had previously tried to buy Jumbo, but his offer had been unavailing, so he had carried on his back around the park several generations of royal princes, and no child whose father was not a peer had for many years been permitted to take a ride on Jumbo. But to allow Shakespeare's birthplace to be carried away by a Yankee showman was so unacceptably outrageous that Jumbo was given up. Barnum transported the big pachyderm to the United States and, after exhibiting him all over the land, he situated him on his Connecticut farm and used him to plow his fields, on the ground that Jumbo was no longer a royal beast, but a plain American who must earn his living like all other good Yankees. Barnum advertised a lecture to be delivered at a New England college town. Admission 50 cents, subject "Humbugs." The rollicking students organized a surprise party for him and, when he stepped to the front of the platform, he was greeted with cheers, catcalls, yells and groans, ending with a college song. He waited patiently, smiling and bowing, until the song was finished, and then remarked, "I thank you, my young friends, for this splendid ovation, but I have not yet finished my lecture. You have paid 50 cents each to attend this performance. It is immaterial to me whether you furnish the entertainment or I do."

"Suppose," said a student on the front bench, "we ride and tie."

"Agreed," said Barnum, and the lecture proceeded, with the students interrupting occasionally with a song.

If Barnum had lived to this day, he would have crossed the continent to lay his laurels as a humbug at the feet of Frank Healey. That person has been posed in the most fiery bronco on an Arizona range. He has been posed as a dead game sport, ready to bet $1000 on a bob-tailed flush. On the strength of killing a poor old drunken doctor, he has been celebrated as a bad man, although his laurels as a fighter were somewhat wilted when the old Tucson postmaster chased him up the street, first breaking his cane over his head and then jabbing him with the end thereof in the place where the Governor promised to kick him. But of all the poses of this arrogant humbug, his posing as a great criminal lawyer, is the most unwarranted and the most ridiculous. He can insult and intimidate witnesses who are opposed to him, and strut up and down the courtroom like a peacock on a garden walk; but did he ever secure a conviction in California that a higher court did not upset? In politics he has always been a Democrat in so far as he was ever anything but a Heneyite. His reputation by the voters of San Francisco did not impair his cheerfulness, for there is no force known to nature that can lessen his own good opinion of himself. At present he is devoting his energies to instructing the Legislature in water law, about which he probably knows as little as he does about criminal law, and occasionally he gives a side show in the way of damning the Supreme Court of California for overturning his convictions.

The Reason Back of Suffering.

(Rev. Dr. Frank Crane, in Chicago Post.)

Why are we put in a world where to desire means to suffer?

We are never going to begin to understand this until we settle first of all in our minds the question: "To what purpose were we created?" If to be happy merely, then life certainly is a cynic thing; for we miss no much by the way, and at the end are tumbled into the grave, just as we have learned how to be happy.

But if we adopt the theory that we are put here, not to be happy, but to become great, then life's refusals become intelligent.

For if I hold true, all that befalls me, pain and pleasure, comedy and tragedy, success and failure, feeds my greatness. From the wounds and acids of life I gather prudence, patience, self-control, will power, equanimity and courage.

"All things work together for good" to those who have learned that there is something more worth while than happiness. "The stars in their courses fight against" all who think nature's last word is pleasure.

There is a strain of baseness in every philosophical system called hedonistic, that is, making pleasure one's chief aim; whether (bodily pleasure) or the higher hedonism of Epicurus (spiritual pleasure). Our faith is in a nobler Teacher, whose sign is The Cross.

The Lady Poverty.

I met her on the Umbrian Hills,
Her hair unbound, her feet unshod;
As one whom secret glory fills,
She walked—alone with God.

I met her in the city street;
Oh, changed was her aspect then!
With heavy eyes and weary feet,
She walked—alone with men.

STORIES OF FAMOUS POEMS.

"ODE TO A SKELETON."

(Author Unknown.)

Behold this ruin! 'Twas a skull
Once of ephemeral spirit full.
This narrow cell was life's retreat,
This space was thought's mysterious seat.
What beautiful visions filled this spot,
What dreams of pleasure long forgot?
Nor hope, nor joy, nor love, nor fear
Have left one trace of record here.

Beneath this moldering canopy
Once shone the bright and busy eye.
But start not at the dismal void—
If social love that eye employed,
If with no lawless fire it gleamed,
But through the dews of kindness beamed,
That eye shall be forever bright,
When Stars and Sun are sunk in Night.

Within this hollow cavern hung
The ready, swift and tuneful tongue;
If falsehood's honey it disdained,
And when it could not praise was chained,
If bold in Virtue's cause it spoke,
Yet gentle Concord never broke—
The silent tongue shall plead for thee
When Time becomes Eternity.

Say, did these fingers delve the mine?
Or with the envied rubies shine
To hew a rock or wear a gem.
Can little now avail to thee.
But if the page Truth they sought,
Or comfort to the mourner brought,
These hands a richer mead shall claim,
Than all that wait on Wealth or Fame.

Avails it whether bare or shod,
These feet the path of Duty trod?
If from the haven of ease they fed,
To seek affliction's humble bed?
If Grandeur's guilty bride they spurned,
And home to Virtue's cot returned,
These feet with angels' wings shall vie,
And tread the Palace of the Sky.

There is no poem in the English language over the authorship of which there has been more searching investigation. Although this has been going on for close to a century, the result has brought to light nothing definite, and it is likely to continue as much of a mystery as the historic personage, "The Man in the Iron Mask," or the literary secret as to the authorship of the Junius Letters.

There must be some deep mystery hidden behind these lines, otherwise their popularity would have brought out the name of the author, who would have only been too glad to have taken to himself the credit of having written one of the best of the shorter poems in the English language. The story of the finding of the poem, and the evidence of its suggestion to be in part, but why, if there is nothing back of it all, should the author have hesitated to acknowledge his production? Is it possible that his name attached to the verses would have revealed a secret which he wished to avoid becoming known?

The poem is sometimes called "Lines to a Skeleton" and sometimes "Lines to a Skull." The former title would seem to be the more appropriate. The first three stanzas are addressed entirely to the skull, but the last two to various parts of a skeleton. They were discovered and first printed in England, but the authorship has been variously placed, in one instance to an American. Literary men of both continents have been equally diligent in their search for the author to clear the mystery.

Although it is claimed that the first printed copy of the poem was in the London Morning Chronicle and unsigned, it is to be found in the European Magazine for November, 1816, signed with the initial "V." V. was the signature used by the English authoress, Miss Anna Jane Vardill, afterward Mrs. James Niven, of Glenasmole. This young lady wrote many poems to the European Magazine, printed over the same initial, but she denied the authorship of "Lines to a Skeleton." Many writers, when they wish to conceal their identity, use the initial "V." or "X." and not infrequently "X. Y. Z." This was as good an incident. In America the names of several persons have been attached to its authorship, chief among which was John D. Godman, a celebrated surgeon, who spent the major part of his life in Philadelphia, and died about eighty years ago. Godman married a daughter of Rembrandt Peale, the great American artist. He is credited with no other poems, and it would seem that any one possessing the ability to write such a fine poem as the above could not have curbed a natural desire to write other poems.

In Notes and Queries of September 5, 1892, appeared the following communication signed by E. W. Dobbs: "About four years before Cole's 'The Thousand Best Poems in the World' was printed (about 1887), I came across the poem in a newspaper, with this prefix:

"The following verses were published anonymously in the London Chronicle nearly sixty years ago, and, notwithstanding the offer of a reward of fifty guineas, the author's name remained a secret until quite recently, when it was learned that the lines were written by Robert Philip, of Bormyre Cottage, Scotland. Toward the end of the year 1836 he wrote the verses, while watching for body-snatchers in the parish churchyard of Torphichen, where, during the rearing of the church, the unearthing of a skeleton suggested a subject. The verses were shown to Dr. John Alford, who procured a copy, and either by accident or intention, dropped the lines in the Royal College of Surgeons, where they were found. The author is still living at the ripe age of seventy-four."

This story, like many others, has been discredited, and the most recent anthologies printing the poem still give it as "Anonymous."

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

The early bird, so the sage affirms, is always catching the choicest worms; and this is proof, says that wise old grouch, that man should hasten to leave his couch. But the richest sleep that a man can have, the sleep that acts as a balm and salve, is the sleep that comes when he ought to rise if he'd be "healthy, wealthy and wise." When a man gets up ere his sleep is done, and starts a scratching around for mon, he may be filling his coffers deep, but, jumping ginger! he loses sleep. A yard of slumber is worth more kale than anything in this gloomy vale. Let others rustle, their vigils keep, while I'm enjoying my morning slunk. Let others capture the festive plunk; I'll snore a few in my downy bunk. And when I rise, after sleeping much, I feel like working, to beat the Dutch; my head is clear and my mind serene, I am not grouchy, or cross or mean. I shall not be by the sages' bosom; their heads are added, their wiles are crossed, and I do not suffer for early worms, or box constrictors or toads or gorms.

HOGAN WORKS TWO CHANGES.

Sends Fisher to Tacoma and Gets Castleton.

Vernon Manager Believes He Has Made Good Deals.

Twenty-four Men to Report
for Spring Work.

Hay Hogan, manager of the Vernon team, made two deals yesterday by which he sends First Baseman Bill Fisher to the Tacoma team in the Northwest League and received Pitcher Castleton from the Los Angeles team. Fisher goes on an "optional agreement" which some say is another name for "farming," while Castleton comes to Vernon because Hogan refused to waive when Henry Berry of the Los Angeles team asked for waiver on Castleton.

Capt. Dillon of the Angels stated several weeks ago that he intended to give Castleton a thorough trial this season, but he evidently forgot that he had asked for waiver on the heavy-hitter. Hogan now has Pitcher Stewart and the Angels did not want, and Hogan Castleton that the Angels did not desire, and he will have a chance to prove this year in all probability, though his judgment is better, than that of the other managers.

Hogan expects to have twenty-four men report to him at the Vernon camp on Monday, February 27, and this bunch will be eight faces new to the Vernon team in Pitchers Dye, Stewart and Castleton; First Baseman Castleton; Infielders Reams and McDonald and Outfielders Stinson and Fisher. Raleigh, Brackenridge and Whitford were their signed contracts to the Vernon headquarters yesterday.

Things are going along quietly in the camp and as many of the players are within striking distance of the city, none of the outsiders will show up here until the latter part of the month.

The new contracts are slowly coming in and none of the salaries have been set out, although the season is to be well under way this year than that of last year. A few of the men will have more money this year than they had before, but generally speaking, the new contracts are not a very great improvement on the old ones.

The new Washington Park is a very smart place from what it was last year. The new grass is growing satisfactorily and the framework of the grand stand is about one-fourth completed. The bad weather this week has rather retarded the work, but the clear day will put the men to work.

Lieut. J. C. Walker, representing the U. S. Infantry, one of the three officers detailed to learn to fly under Glenn H. Curtiss at San Diego.

Enthusiastic

UNCLE SAM'S AVIATION EXPERTS ARE BEGINNING AT THE BOTTOM.

THE most enthusiastic members of the United States Navy, Army and Signal Corps today are the three youthful lieutenants who have been detailed to learn the art of handling biplanes.

Lieut. Paul Beck of the signal corps, Lieut. J. C. Walker of the Eighth Infantry, and Lieut. T. G. Ellsby of the United States Navy are at San Diego and will not leave that city until they have acquired the art of balancing the wonderful machines of Glenn Curtiss in the air. They are heart and soul in their work and talk, eat and sleep aeroplanes.

The Aero Club of San Diego, which sprang into existence in a day, now numbers a membership of 300, and has already laid out an aviation field and hangars on North Island, across the Spanish Bight, in a rather out-of-the-way place. Ten or fifteen acres of fine level plateau have been cleared for flying and here, out of sight of the prying eyes of the world, the three youthful lieutenants of Uncle Sam will serve their apprenticeship in flying.

It is not all a pink tea affair. They have sworn to obey every order of Glenn Curtiss, and he has peculiar ideas of what a navy lieutenant of the army or navy should do before he learns to fly.

The first thing Curtiss did was to hand each of the natty uniformed officers a nice new suit of overalls. After they were attired in these he gave each one a monkey wrench, a pair of pliers and a screw driver, and set them to work taking apart a Curtiss gas engine. They have worked harder at this than at anything Uncle Sam ever asked them to do. After they had taken the greasy machine apart, Curtiss gave them a lecture on the different parts and told them to assemble it again. This was harder work and resembled the efforts of the ordinary citizen, who, turning watch repairer to his own timepiece, finds that he has several wheels and springs left over, with no place for them to go.

The officers will be kept at this mundane work until they know a carburetor from a crank shaft, and can feelingly talk about the shiftiness or tightness of an eccentric. After they "know" the engine they will be taught to guide the biplane up and down the ground at full speed, but without leaving the earth.

After they can do this they will be taken up in the air by Curtiss or one of the aviators, and finally, in about two weeks, they will be permitted to make little jumps of ten or fifteen feet in the air with their biplanes. They expect to be able to fly an aeroplane and to take to pieces and assemble the engine at a moment's notice after about one month's hard work.

Dangerous Blow.

KIDNEY PUNCH CONDEMNED BY DOCTORS AND EXPERTS.

THE anxiety of Young Rivers' manager to keep him away from fighters who use the kidney punch until he has attained his full maturity is a great deal of punishment to the face and head, and he none the worse for it. Dr. R. B. Griffith, known as the "sportsman's surgeon," who has examined hundreds of fighters for the Pacific Athletic Club, including many men of note in the athletic world. He says:

"The kidney punch, if repeated, may very easily lead to injury, especially to a young boy. I do not mean superficial injury, at all. A man may take a great deal of punishment to the face and head, and be none the worse for it a few days later. But in the case of the kidney punch, it is different. The kidneys lie fairly near the surface, and it must be evident to any doctor that continued heavy blows in the vicinity of these organs may lead to disastrous results. I consider that the actual substance of the kidneys may sustain injury. And the probability of the surrounding tissue sustaining injury is a still more likely contingency. Acute inflammation may be caused, and that may leave, to strip the explanation of medical terminology, actual enduring disease. The result is that injury, not transitory, but deep-rooted, has been inflicted on a vital organ. I think you would find that doctors as a body would be practically unanimous in condemning the kidney punch as a risky and dangerous blow. If clenching was prohibited, there would be no more kidney blows delivered."

De Witt Van Court declares the kidney punch is against the rules anyhow.

"The first time I ever heard of the so-called 'kidney punch,' which is being discussed in England and this country was in 1891," said Van Court, the boxing instructor of the Los Angeles Athletic Club yesterday.

"George Dawson and Danny Needham were the principals in the fight which brought forth this much-discussed weapon. For eleven rounds, Needham and Dawson, to ribbons with

FACTS AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

By Olive Gray.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: The spray bath is the latest decree of the beauty specialist for the woman who has a dry skin. While the daily soaking in water is apt to increase the dryness of the skin, the spray bath has the reverse effect. Especially beneficial is the spray when applied to the spine, at about the waist line, as the soothing of this nerve center is said to produce complete restoration of the balance there, resting and refreshing the entire system.

It has always seemed to me strange that so few engage in the occupation of selling flowers. It is so appropriate that they deal in these beautiful creations of nature, that I was pleased when I heard that a woman had opened a florist establishment on Spring street.

I had seen this woman; knew something of her story and had thought her beautiful both personally and in the brave spirit shown during deep affliction; so it was with the expectation of finding her conducting her business just a little better than the average florist that I hunted up her shop. I found her surrounded with well-chosen flowers—she herself looking like a tall La France—and I found, quite as I had expected that she was doing things a bit better and differently than others. For instance, it is her ambition to have only the best quality and the freshest blossoms at all times. You know how much longer these will last. Also she means to make the latest combinations of flowers. You know there is a fashion in flowers for decoration and for wear, just as there is in clothes, or jewelry, or lingerie. Following out this idea, she has devised a corsage bouquet which combines the latest fad in flower colors—violet and red—and I do not know as I have a right to tell just what her combination is—but there are three flowers and three distinct shades. Marigolds in the most chic and exquisite corsage bouquet that has ever been seen in Los Angeles. Of course you are proud, as I am, to have this production of a woman. I hope she will make a great success in her business. She deserves to for her cheerful perseverance, if nothing more, for the fact that her own great burden of sorrow has never dimmed the smile that she has always kept ready for others; and then I feel certain that she will make the business itself such that it will be worthy of success.

She buys from a dear little old lady who has an old-fashioned garden, such possibly as your grandmother used to raise for the nosegay of her day. These form a striking and quaint contrast to the latest fashions of fashion and make one think of the popular revivals in dress and furnishings which one sees nowadays, at every turn of the hand in hand with the most up-to-date ideas in the latest fashions. Marigolds in their dresses of dusty gold, hothouse beside the roses of my Maryland, and stocks pose prominently in the case with Richmond Beauties. This introduction of the old-time favorites, among the fashion's latest whim, is like the fancy for Paisley dress and the fashion of stylish weaves. Even the growths of Nature are made to conform to the taste of my lady of high degree—Sovereign Fashion. But the ingenious touch can always be managed by the ingenious—and the La France lady has this magic touch.

Need for Pictures.

We were speaking of a handsome home recently completed here by one of our friends, or rather by several of them—for it is the home of a family. "There is something lacking," said one of the party. "I can't think just what it is, but do you know that with all its beauty, this home does not satisfy me. What is wanting?"

"I'm sure I don't know," one replied. "It seems as though nothing had been gotten at to convenience; there is furniture of the best; the rugs and draperies are handsome; the pictures are by celebrated artists—"

"Now you have reached the heart of the matter," said the art lover. "There are pictures, and some are as you say, by good artists, but the lack in that home is in the pictures. The pictures should form the main attraction of each room and there they do not. On the contrary they are mere incidents. In other words, the pictures are not great enough for the house. Suppose that, in that great salon, your eye rested first upon a masterly canvas by one of the really great artists; do you not know that the satisfaction thus obtained would spread to the contents of the entire room?"

"I'm not certain but what on the contrary, it would detract from the effect of the other articles there. Would it not absorb the attention to the exclusion of all else?"

"Not at all. It would be quite as reasonable to say that beautiful eyes detract from the beauty of a face, or that a beautiful face detracts attention from beautiful clothes worn by the possessor. According to my idea, a great picture, in that room would be to it what these features are to the personality—the key to the whole. The window into the soul which should there be enshrined."

A Round-Up. Occasionally the importance of the manufacture and handling of women's clothes is borne in upon the woman who realizes how many make a living thereby.

At the recent yearly banquet of the Garment Manufacturers' Association of Chicago, over 200 members were present. It was a novel affair, too. They called it "The Annual Round-Up," and adopted for the occasion cowboy costumes. The banquet room was lighted by old-fashioned lanterns and the members as they entered, were "held up" at the point of a six-shooter and their tickets received from them.

Wouldn't that be a clever idea for a charity affair? Call it—perhaps, "The Annual Round-Up." We might adapt the bi-skirt to the cowboy costume for ladies, and it would give the contributors to charity somewhere near the worth of their money. A pretty girl with glistening spurs and sombrero tilted saucily back over shining locks could, I am sure, enlist much sympathy for the patients in a sanatorium, or the orphan in an asylum. It makes such a difference whose eyes we look through, especially when it comes to charity.

The New Skirt. "But do you not, because of your love of pictures, exaggerate their importance?"

"I think not. I ask you to try to imagine, I ask you to try to imagine, just one great picture in each room—an idea that would create? If I were furnishing a home like that, I would place in it one picture in each room, which, however fine and costly, serves to distract rather than to content, and would have a few exceptionally fine paintings. In my opinion, the nearest notice who entered there would feel the satisfaction of the completeness, even though he might not realize the reason for it.

Was he right? I wonder. Although I think few of us are inclined to take seriously the new division of labor, I am sure that in Paris and recently exhibited in Los Angeles, it seems that Poirot himself was seriously, since it is said by Poirot's correspondents that ten out of fourteen of his most handsome models have been made in that style.

It is also stated that the doubtless made the model in deference to the dress reform movement which is in progress in Germany; and that his friend found instant favor with the Empress and other court ladies. It is not surprising to us to learn that Germany takes the initiative in such reforms, it is her history and thought of German ladies as conservative and the truth were known, we have modestly plumed ourselves upon being the most progressive women on earth. Can it be that we are not so, after all?

An Oyster Dish.

An appetizing dish for a rainy day is made as follows: Pour the liquor from a quart of selected oysters. Make a cream dressing by working into a tablespoonful of butter, flour to thicken, adding milk or cream to proper consistency. Pour liquor from a can of French mushrooms, preferably the small variety. Place in a baking pan a layer of oysters and one of mushrooms in alternation. Place a layer of cracker crumbs on top and if you wish, dash with Parmesan cheese. Cook in the oven about twenty minutes and serve with crisp celery.

Fashion's Remarks.

Remarkably lovely are the insertions, motifs and garlands of clear crystal inlaid with baroque pearls. A charming ribbon has a background of white silk covered with a small tapestry design in dull colors. "Faded" embroidery is made from colored spangles and sequins and is used effectively on black velvet or net. Silk and satin flowers, each petal edged with beads and used in the crown and under the brim of an evening hat.

White money is an inexpensive favor and is in favor of cloaks, long shoulder scarfs and hats for young girls.

Very effective is the banded trimmings of steel beads used on either edge with two rows of fine jet beads.

Silver on black tulle, steel beads on blue tulle (dark blue) and coral on pink or blue, are some of the beautiful combinations used.

For evening there is a great demand for brocades, crepe de chine and all supple weaves that lack luster, but abound in wonderful colors.

The very finest ribbons, flowers, and of colored rosebuds usually, not so large as a ten-cent piece, are adorning labors and shirtwaist frills.

POLITICAL EQUALITY LEAGUE IN HOT CAMPAIGN.

Demonstration Will Not Be Given in the Form of a Torchlight Procession on the Streets But Will Be Offered Peaceably From a Local Stage—Spreading the Doctrine.

The first approach by Los Angeles women to anything resembling the militant suffrage movement of England was found yesterday in the announcement that Miss Pringle and her College Woman's Equality League members are planning to present a pageant for which words have been written by the daughter of Ellen Terry, and which were used by the militant suffragists in their spectacular campaign.

This will not be given in the form of a torchlight procession on the streets, but will be offered peaceably from a local stage.

The College Woman's League has joined forces enthusiastically with the Woman's Political Equality League and will take a vigorous hand in the busy campaign which that organization is about to launch. Within the next ten days Mrs. Berthold Baruch, as the new chairman of public meetings, expects to have this campaign fairly inaugurated.

As soon as the Political Equality League can secure an appropriate auditorium, Mrs. Baruch will arrange for weekly and perhaps for daily meetings. The women of the league will be asked to come and be converted to the cause of the constitutional amendment, granting women the right to vote. The league does not propose to use English methods.

There will be no anti-biscuit or anti-kissing brigades, nor will the women reach every village in the State by the use of the State and public meetings will be held in every village. One of the largest branches will be that of Pasadena, which is headed by Mrs. Seward Simons.

CANNERY READY FOR SEASON.

Tulare Concern Puts Finishing Touches on Big Plant—Los Angeles Policemen Leave a Dairy.

TULARE, Feb. 3.—Work has started upon the installation at the Tulare Cannery of the boiler and engines to be used in the new factory and upon the installation of these machines, the graders, cookers and other paraphernalia necessary to the canning of fruits and vegetables will be added. It is stated, also, that correspondence is now being carried on with a number of the leading jobbers of the Coast cities and there is a strong possibility that for the first season practically all of the fruit will be packed to order under special labels for the wholesale houses.

A. W. Dawson, a member of the Los Angeles police force, who is on a two years' furlough by reason of ill health, has leased a dairy ranch in the Pixley territory. For a few weeks, pending the proper fitting up of a house on his place, he will make his home with his family in this city.

SHATTERED ARM. E. E. Coon of Tipton was brought to this city today suffering from a badly shattered arm and leg taken to a local sanatorium for surgical treatment.

Mr. Coon was at work in his driving, cleaning stalls, when one of his horns kicked him, the blow falling on his right fore arm. The two bones of the fore arm were broken in three places, one of the breaks being a compound fracture. The injury is a serious one and may result in the permanent loss of the use of his arm and hand.

A. E. Brown, who gave his home as Los Angeles, was brought in to Judge Davis' court yesterday afternoon, having been arrested by Officer Smith on a charge of peddling without a city license. Brown was peddling a little household article and was taken to a house to be examined by a physician. He was required to pay a license. His story was convincing and that Judge Davis allowed him to go upon the payment of the regular license of $2.

LACK OF RIVETS IN THE JAIL.

DELIVERY EXPOSES SCANDAL IN VISALIA.

Examination Shows That Pieces of Steel Latticed Into the Corners Are Fastened Together With Bolts Which Merely Reach Flush With the Surface.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

VISALIA, Feb. 3.—Examination of the cells at the County Jail, from which the delivery took place a few days since, when Mike Larkin and Mike Burke escaped from the jail, shows a scandalous state of affairs. Iron bolts have been used to fasten the bars in place instead of the steel rivets which were called for in the contract.

The bolts were made with corners of angle iron and at intervals of five inches, flat pieces of steel were lapped into the corners and were fastened in what appeared to be the regulation steel rivets. When the careful examination was made of these rivets, however, it was found that they were mere bolts, on the outer side being cut off flush with the bars and then pounded down to keep them off. This made it an absolutely easy matter to take these rivets out, showing that the only reason previous escapes have not been made from the jail is because the inmates have never made the attempt.

Jailer Douglas reported the matter to Sheriff Collins and the latter, in turn, to the city and county boards in the clerk's office are now being searched to find out who was responsible for the neglect in the construction. While the investigation is being made, it is probable that at this late date, in all probability, there will be some satisfaction in knowing that the same contractor who was given the opportunity of robbing the county the same way again.

Iron workers were employed at the jail today and all of the bolts being drawn and the regulation rivets are being put in their places.

OLD CONTROVERSY SETTLED.

At the regular meeting of the City Trustees, held last night, the long controversy which has waged between the city and the contracting firm of Keating & Sons of Oakland, over the acceptance of the conduit system built for the control of Mill Creek, was brought to a close when the address left his seat and from the floor moved that the contractors be given $2500 in full satisfaction of their claim of $2500 against the city.

This motion prevailed upon a unanimous vote and R. P. Keating, who was present to represent the firm, signed a receipt in full of all claims. Keating came here from the North yesterday morning, accompanied by his attorney, prepared to take the matter into court. He was at length advised that the suit would probably cost him as much as the sum in issue, no matter what the outcome of the action, when the offer was made he concluded to accept.

All of the controversy hinged upon whether or not the contract as signed between the city and the contractor called for the plastering of the big pipe through the city limits. Upon this hinged the payment of $2500. The case has been fought for three months and it is a cause of general satisfaction that it has at length been brought to a successful issue.

After having reached the highest point since the destructive floods of the early eighties, the St. John's River subsided yesterday afternoon with almost as great rapidity as it rose, and within four hours had returned to the normal level for this time of the year. Four bad breaks in the levees resulted from the high water and these are being repaired as rapidly as possible in anticipation of further storming.

HORTICULTURAL LAWS STAND.

Assemblyman Writes That There Is Little Chance of Change at This Session of Legislature.

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 2.—In a letter received from G. W. Wylie, the Assemblyman from this district, there is contained the assertion that there is little chance of changes being made in the horticultural laws at this present session. It is also asserted that as yet there has been no move toward appointing a successor to J. W. Jeffrey. In the latter announcement there is cause for rejoicing in this section as Jeffrey's administration of his office has been very efficient and his efforts in the horticultural section of the legislature have been of great value.

For the first time in the history of the Porterville orange groves, fertilizing is to be started this year on a large scale.

Soil of the Central California orange belt is very heavy and up to the age of eight and nine years fertilization of
